100 PERSONS AT 3RD REUNION OF MUD COLLEGE

One hundred persons attended the third annual reunion of teachers, pupils and guests of "Mud College" School Sunday afternoon at the school on the Littlestown-Gettysburg Rd. Walter F. Crouse, Littlestown R. D. president of the organization, was in charge.

Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Littlestown Joint School System, reminisced on the days of the Little Red School House. He spoke on "The Value of an Education." Mrs. Naomi C. Schwartz, Littlestown R. D. secretary, presented a report. Dr. Willis Hartman, Harrisburg, a pupil in 1877, spoke briefly and gave a poetic tribute, which he composed, to Mud College. Maynard Crouse, Hanover, reported that several trees have been planted on the grounds. The building was purchased several years ago by the Crouse family and is being preserved as an original "little red schoolhouse."

One hundred persons attended the third annual reunion of teachers, pupils and guests of "Mud College" School Sunday afternoon at the school on the Littlestown-Gettysburg Rd. Walter P. Crouse, Littlestown R. D. president of the organization, was in charge.

Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Littlestown Joint School System, reminisced on the days of the Little Red School House. He spoke of "The Value of an Education." He compared the textbooks and materials of former days with the modern books, pointing out that the material is practically the same but written in different language.

He said that "the financial sacrifices entailed in providing an education for one's children is repaid a hundred fold by making life more worthwhile for them." "Education," King said, "makes a person easy to lead, but difficult to drive; easy to govern but impossible to enslave."

Mrs. Naomi C. Schwartz, Littlestown R. D. secretary, presented a report. Dr. Willis Hartman, Harrisburg, a pupil in 1877, spoke briefly and gave a poetic tribute, which he composed, to Mud College. Maynard Crouse, Hanover, reported that several trees have been planted on the grounds. The building was purchased several years ago by the Crouse family and is being preserved as an original "little red schoolhouse."

Wherley, who presented the officers who were elected: President, Charles Little; vice president, Ray Epley; secretary, Naomi Schwartz; treasurer, Paul E. Snyder. Prizes were awarded to Ralph Miller, Baltimore; Nancy Sponseller and Dr. Willis Hartman, Harrisburg. The program concluded with the group singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

DR. F. TILBERG LAUDS LEE IN TALK SATURDAY
Dr. Frederick Tilberg, E. Broadway, historian for the Gettysburg National Military Park, was the speaker Saturday evening at services held at the Old Soldiers' Home, Washington, D. C., commemorating the 93rd anniversary of the Battle of Antietam, at Sharpsburg, Md.

The ceremony was sponsored by the Lincoln Group of the District of Columbia. Dr. Tilberg had as his theme "The Gensherip of Lee at Antietam."

Describing Lee as "unorthodox" among the world's military leaders because of his gracious, kindly and gentlemanly handling of subordinates, Dr. Tilberg quoted an authority as saying that Lee's decision to stand and fight on the Potomac "was one of the boldest and most hazardous decisions of his whole military career."

Dr. Tilberg described the Confederate battle there as "epic" and "a fine example of a plan of battle developed by Lee's able mind and executed by subordinates of strong military character."

The battle, often described as the bloodiest one-day fight of the war, found 40,000 Confederates facing over 85,000 Federal troops on September 17, 1862.

Taking part in Saturday's program in addition to the Lincoln group were the Washington Blue Rifles, the 13th Confederate Rifles, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.

Rebels Deny Peron's Forces Quelled Argentina Uprising; Report 2nd Army Joins Revolt

By ROMAN JIMENEZ
MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—President Juan Peron's government said today it had launched an attack on the rebel stronghold of Puerto Belgrano.

A communique said "complete normality" prevailed over the country except for "centers of resistance in Puerto Belgrano and Cordoba," but this claim was disputed by rebel radio announcements.

A rebel broadcast from Puerto Belgrano, big naval base 350 miles southwest of Buenos Aires, declared the 2nd Army Command had joined the revolt — now in its fourth day — and had seized control of the western province of Mendoza.

The broadcast claiming to come from the provincial capital, the city of Mendoza, claimed anti-Peron forces also were in control of the neighboring provinces of San Juan and San Luis.

Buenos Aires Blacked Out
Announcing the attack on Puerto Belgrano, the government said, "Very superior army troops are converging from several directions of the nation in order to stamp out this last seditious redoubt."

It said "cleanup operations" were resumed at Cordoba at dawn. Buenos Aires went through its second consecutive night blacked out under the threat of rebel bombardment. The government ridiculed the insurgent threats, asserting the capital should be considered an open city.

Rebel radio broadcasts have warned that Buenos Aires would come under naval and aerial attack unless Peron resigns.

Two deadlines set by the rebels for Peron's resignation passed yesterday without the promised attack.

Mystery Warships Mission
Meanwhile, three big warships — presumably part of Argentina's ocean-going fleet — moved up the broad River Plate, which runs alongside Buenos Aires. Their mission was a mystery. A rebel-controlled fleet of river warships has been standing by in the Plate and some reports said the river

DEMOCRAT ASKS REMOVAL OF SEC. BENSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) said today Secretary of Agriculture Benson should be removed from office because he is "directly responsible" for the continuing decline in farm income.

Kerr made plain in an interview that he does not think President Eisenhower will fire Benson, long a prime target of Democratic criticism.

The senator said Benson's removal would require a "political operation" — a Democratic victory in next year's presidential election which, Kerr said, is the only hope for the nation's farmers.

Kerr declared Benson is "still playing hop, skip and jump with the welfare of the American farmer" and is trying "to hypnotize the farmers into thinking they're well off, as he's been doing for 2½ years."

Inherited Problem

The senator was commenting on Benson's news conference statement late yesterday that the farm situation is a real problem but one which the Eisenhower administration inherited from previous Democratic regimes.

Benson said yesterday, however, that he feels American agriculture is "basically sound," despite what he called "the claims of the prophets

This Boy Doesn't Like Pretty Women

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A 12-year-old boy told police he had slashed women's shoes and purses in several Little Rock department stores this week because he didn't "like things that make women pretty."

Police Capt. A. V. Haynie said the boy was arrested yesterday when a department store clerk saw him drop a razor blade when he picked up a shoe from a display.

Haynie said the boy had damaged several hundred dollars worth of merchandise. The child was turned over to juvenile court authorities. His name wasn't revealed.

of gloom and doom."

Questioned on that point, Kerr said Benson "has been making frequent announcements that farm prices were stabilized and the farm economy sound. Each time, reports of additional decreases have been announced simultaneously with his expressions of confidence."

Benson conceded that he "miscalculated" last year in his repeated predictions that the post-Korea farm price decline had leveled off. The miscalculation arose from the fact, he said, that farm production this year is running much larger than he had anticipated and this is helping pull prices lower.

EISENHOWER CALLS ANOTHER SPORTS CONFAB

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower today invited 139 sports world figures, top educators and leaders in other fields to a Sept. 27-28 conference here on building the physical fitness of America's youth.

The purpose of the conference is to get more youngsters out of the spectator grandstands and into active participation in athletics.

The President has expressed concern that lack of such participation is responsible in part for increasing juvenile delinquency, and for failure of so many young people to measure up to selective service requirements.

As announced previously, Vice President Nixon will preside at the two-day conference at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here. The President will receive the conference's recommendations and

Widow Kidnaps Soldier; Off To Sea

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — An attractive 24-year-old widow kidnapped a soldier and carried him off to sea as his commanding officer looked on here yesterday.

The odd elopement took place after Ma Hla Kyi — well-to-do and with many offers of marriage in her books — pleaded with Maung Nyein Maung to return her love. He refused. The merry widow whipped a dagger out of her sarong and escorted the reluctant Romeo to a waiting sampan.

There was no word of them tonight.

They were invited to the conference from the sports world include: Bobby Jones, the former grand slam champion of golf; Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champ; Rogers Hornsby, one-time baseball great and now director of youth activities for the Chicago Park District; baseball Commissioner Ford Frick; Clarence "Biggie" Munn, athletic director at Michigan State University.

NIXON ANSWERS FARM CRITICS

WABASH, Ind. (AP) — The Eisenhower administration's farm policy, shaping up as the top issue of the 1956 campaign and already under heavy Democratic attack, was due for a top level defense this afternoon from Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

He promised to fire back in his speech here at the National Plowing Championships at Democrats who blame the administration for farm prices.

Democrats, remembering the farm vote which helped elect President Truman in 1948, consider declining farm income their best talking point in their fight to retain control of Congress and possibly elect a Democratic president next year.

National Democratic leaders claim the Eisenhower administration's flexible farm price support program is responsible for the drop in prices and have accused the administration of breaking its 1952 campaign pledges on the farm issue.

Studies at Indiana University indicate that some accidents around jet planes are caused by workers' being stunned by the noise.

They didn't overlook the superintendent of schools, either. He got a green one.

Population experts in Japan which is making strenuous efforts to reduce the increase in its population estimate the nation will have 100 million people before numbers can be stabilized.

4 STATE PARKS ATTRACT NEARLY MILLION GUESTS

Four state parks in the Michaux Forest played host during the past summer to record numbers of picnickers and other visitors.

As maintenance crews set about the winter-long task of cleaning up the park areas and preparing them for the 1956 season, District Forester Richard L. Dolton released preliminary figures showing attendance at the four parks in his district reached nearly 1,000,000 during the past summer.

The estimates are based on daily spot counts made by park foremen and submitted to Dolton's office at Caledonia State Park.

The four parks in the Michaux Forest — Caledonia, Pine Grove Furnace, Mont Alto and Old Forge — were in such demand for outings and picnics that during much of the summer they were unable to accommodate many visitors despite the fact that each received additional facilities during the months that preceded the opening of the 1955 season.

Need More Parks

"Asked whether or not the four parks would be further expanded during the coming winter, Mr. Dolton said the answer to the problem seems to be not larger but more parks."

"Additional facilities seem to attract additional people. We never seem able to get ahead of the demand," he commented.

Caledonia and Pine Grove Furnace attracted the majority of picnickers and vacationers to the Michaux Forest during the park season which ended with the Labor Day weekend. Mr. Dolton estimated that each of these two parks was host to 300,000 visitors during the past summer.

During the month of July Caledonia park entertained an estimated 135,000 visitors.

The 1955 park attendance, Forester Dolton noted, was the highest on record despite the fact that the month of June was unusually cool and park attendance during this period was far below average. The heaviest demands were made on the parks over three holiday weekend periods — Memorial Day, July 4th and Labor Day.

Caledonia park during the past summer was especially popular among out-of-state visitors, Park Foreman Austin Minnick commented. Weekend periods especially, he noted, brought "tremendous numbers" of visitors from Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

As park maintenance personnel began cleanup operations, Forester Dolton said they found evidence that 1955 visitors were not as careful of neat as visitors of previous years. Tons of debris are being gathered up and carried from the park areas and countless pieces of broken equipment are being repaired.

"People seem to lose sight of the fact that these are their own park areas," the district forest official said in commenting on the careless use of park areas.

"OLD TIME TALES"

I never seem to tire of . . . the stories old folks tell . . . about the golden days of yore . . . and times they knew so well . . . I never seem to get enough . . . of what they have to say . . . for they paint vivid pictures of . . . a dead and by-gone day . . . they bring to life old customs and . . . the methods of the past . . . the good old horse and buggy times . . . that faded all too fast . . . it seems old people live again . . . a lifetime drifts before them . . . from their memory where it's hid . . . and so I listen eagerly . . . to all things they relate . . . because some day I'll tell about . . . my time that wouldn't wait.

HUTCHINS RAPS U.S. CONTROL OF FOUNDATIONS

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Robert M. Hutchins, president of the Fund for the Republic, said today government supervision of tax-exempt foundations could lead to thought control in teaching and religious circles.

The former president and chancellor of the University of Chicago said restrictions on tax-exempt giving are typical of socialistic states that want to control everything and not be by-passed by private gifts.

In a speech before the 21st annual meeting of the American College of Hospital Administrators, Hutchins said foundations could be "regarded as the finest flower of free enterprise." He said this attitude would be expected in a country that encourages people "to finance religious, charitable, educational and scientific endeavor through private contributions rather than through taxes."

Scots Critics
"Yet critics of the foundations in this country, who represent the extreme right wing of American politics, and who are constantly in full cry against all efforts to extend the scope of governmental action, have repeated over and over again, with the evident intention of getting it accepted as an axiom, the proposition that tax-exempt money is 'your' money."

"This means that detailed governmental supervision of the foundations is necessary; the government must see to it that your money is properly spent."

Hutchins said this proposition, if correct, "would seem to apply to all tax-exempt institutions." He added:

"If a congressional committee may follow every foundation grant and analyze the thoughts of the recipient, then congressional committees may follow 'your' money when it supports preachers and teachers and seek to analyze and control their thoughts, too."

Policy Violations
He said Congress or any other government agency violates "long established policy of this country and in my opinion violates the first amendment as well" if it tries to decide that an institution "ought to engage in or finance only such preaching, teaching and investigation as the government may from time to time approve."

The Fund for the Republic, which Hutchins heads, was set up by the Ford Foundation as an independent corporation to promote public understanding and discussion of principles found in the U.S. Constitution and the Declaration of Independence.

TWO FUGITIVE DIPLOMATS HAD SPIED FOR YEARS

LONDON (AP) — The Foreign Office said today it "must be presumed" that two missing British diplomats—Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean—stole secret documents and turned them over to the Russians.

A spokesman told a news conference a government White Paper will be issued on the case which has been kept hush-hush since the diplomats vanished four years ago. Breaking a long silence after the British press stirred up a furore, the Foreign Office admitted last night "we believe" Burgess and Maclean were Soviet spies for years before their defection.

The admission came after Vladimir Petrov, head of a Soviet espionage ring in Australia who defected to the West, wrote in the newspaper The People that Burgess and Maclean had been spies all the time they were in government service and skipped when they found out they were under investigation.

Stole Documents

"On the basis of Petrov's evidence it is presumptive that they took away documents and that they might have been photographed and passed on to some one, presumably the Soviet contact," the spokesman said.

The Foreign Office spokesman refused to elaborate on the nature of the documents. Both men were in a position to know many British-American secrets.

The spokesman said the documents "presumably were borrowed from the Foreign Office, taken away, photographed and returned within a short time."

Asked whether they were of great importance, the spokesman said:

Recruited 20 Years Ago
"It would be much easier to answer that question if we knew what documents had been photographed."

Petrov said the Communists recruited the pair 20 years ago while they were students at Cambridge.

Burgess was on leave from the British Embassy in Washington and Maclean was head of the Foreign Office's American department when they vanished together in May, 1951. They were traced only as far as France.

Petrov said the pair now are working in Moscow, but a Foreign Office statement repeated previous government assertions that "we have no direct evidence they are in Moscow."

MAY POSTPONE P.U.C. HEARING

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission said today a hearing on the Pennsylvania Railroad's application to drop three passenger trains on the Harrisburg-Williamsport run will be called as scheduled tomorrow at Williamsport but there was a possibility it might be postponed.

A spokesman for the commission said there had been some discussions between attorneys for the railroad and protestants on the case last week but that it was decided to go ahead with the hearing.

However, the spokesman added there was a possibility a motion might be made for a continuance when the hearing opens. Should both sides agree to such a motion, he said, the continuance would be granted.

The Pennsylvania seeks to drop one Sunday only train and two trains, daily except Sunday, from the Williamsport-Harrisburg run, claiming they are operated at a loss.

Protesting the application are the West Branch Manufacturers' Assn., Williamsport; Watonsontown Cabinet Division of the Philco Corp.; City of Williamsport; Central Susquehanna Valley Chamber of Commerce, Sunbury; Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Williamsport; and Sarah McFarland, Watonsontown.

Examiner Daniel H. Jenkins, Scranton, was assigned to preside at the Williamsport hearing.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Chrysler Corp. has announced a 10-year expansion program which it says will rival—if not surpass—any by General Motors or Ford Motor Co.

"We definitely require an assembly plant on the Atlantic Seaboard," he said. "We have looked over a number of sites but we still like one in southern New Jersey best."

Colbert did not disclose estimated cost of the proposed program nor the specific South Jersey site. His remarks were in an interview yesterday with the Philadelphia Inquirer.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Robert M. Hutchins, president of the Fund for the Republic, said today government supervision of tax-exempt foundations could lead to thought control in teaching and religious circles.

The former president and chancellor of the University of Chicago said restrictions on tax-exempt giving are typical of socialist states that want to control everything and not be by-passed by private gifts. In a speech before the 21st annual meeting of the American College of Hospital Administrators, Hutchins said foundations could be "regarded as the finest flower of free enterprise." He said this attitude would be expected in a country that encourages people "to educate religious, charitable, educational and scientific endeavor through private contributions rather than through taxes."

Scores Critics
"Yet critics of the foundations in this country, who represent the extreme right wing of American politics, and who are constantly in full cry against all efforts to extend the scope of governmental action, have repeated over and over again, with the evident intention of getting it accepted as an axiom, the proposition that tax-exempt money is 'your' money."

"This means that detailed governmental supervision of the foundations is necessary; the government must see to it that your money is properly spent."

Hutchins said this proposition, if correct, "would seem to apply to all tax-exempt institutions." He added:

"If a congressional committee may follow every foundation grant and analyze the thoughts of the recipient, then congressional committees may follow 'your' money when it supports preachers and teachers and seek to analyze and control their thoughts, too."

Policy Violations
He said Congress or any other government agency violates "long established policy of this country and in my opinion violates the first amendment as well" if it tries to decide that an institution "ought to engage in or finance only such preaching, teaching and investigation as the government may from time to time approve."

The Fund for the Republic, which Hutchins heads, was set up by the Ford Foundation as an independent corporation to promote public understanding and discussion of principles found in the U.S. Constitution and the Declaration of Independence.

TWO FUGITIVE DIPLOMATS HAD SPIED FOR YEARS

LONDON (AP) — The Foreign Office said today it "must be presumed" that two missing British diplomats—Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean—stole secret documents and turned them over to the Russians.

A spokesman told a news conference a government White Paper will be issued on the case which has been kept hush-hush since the diplomats vanished four years ago. Breaking a long silence after the British press stirred up a furor, the Foreign Office admitted last night "we believe" Burgess and Maclean were Soviet spies for years before their defection.

The admission came after Vladimir Petrov, head of a Soviet espionage ring in Australia who defected to the West, wrote in the newspaper The People that Burgess and Maclean had been spies all the time they were in government service and skipped when they found out they were under investigation.

Stole Documents
"On the basis of Petrov's evidence it is presumptive that they took away documents and that they might have been photographed and passed on to some one, presumably the Soviet contact," the spokesman said.

The Foreign Office spokesman refused to elaborate on the nature of the documents. Both men were in a position to know many British-American secrets.

The spokesman said the documents "presumably were borrowed from the Foreign Office, taken away, photographed and returned within a short time."

Asked whether they were of great importance, the spokesman said:

Recruited 20 Years Ago
"It would be much easier to answer that question if we knew what documents had been photographed."

Petrov said the Communists recruited the pair 20 years ago while they were students at Cambridge. Burgess was on leave from the British Embassy in Washington and Maclean was head of the Foreign Office's American department when they vanished together in May, 1951. They were traced only as far as France.

Petrov said the pair now are working in Moscow, but a Foreign Office statement repeated previous government assertions that "We have no direct evidence they are in Moscow."

MAY POSTPONE P.U.C. HEARING

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission said today a hearing on the Pennsylvania Railroad's application to drop three passenger trains on the Harrisburg-Williamsport run will be called as scheduled tomorrow at Williamsport but there was a possibility it might be postponed.

A spokesman for the commission said there had been some discussions between attorneys for the railroad and protestors on the case last week but that it was decided to go ahead with the hearing.

However, the spokesman added there was a possibility a motion might be made for a continuance when the hearing opens. Should both sides agree to such a motion, he said, the continuance would be granted.

The Pennsylvania seeks to drop one Sunday only train and two trains, daily except Sunday, from the Williamsport-Harrisburg run, claiming they are operated at a loss.

Protesting the application are the West Branch Manufacturers' Assn., Williamsport; Watsontown Cabinet Division of the Philco Corp.; city of Williamsport; Central Susquehanna Valley Chamber of Commerce, Sunbury; Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Williamsport; and Sarah McFarland, Watsontown.

Examiner Daniel H. Jenkins, Scranton, was assigned to preside at the Williamsport hearing.

Chrysler Announces Expansion Program

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Chrysler Corp. has announced a 10-year expansion program which it says will rival—if not surpass—any by General Motors or Ford Motor Co.

L. L. Colbert, corporation president, said a first phase of the program will be construction of an assembly plant on the East Coast, most likely in southern New Jersey.

"We definitely require an assembly plant on the Atlantic Seaboard," he said. "We have looked over a number of sites but we still like one in southern New Jersey best."

Colbert did not disclose estimated cost of the proposed program nor the specific South Jersey site. His remarks were in an interview yesterday with the Philadelphia Inquirer.

An Embassy spokesman declined to disclose the contents of the Soviet reply to the protest delivered Sept. 1, but said: "We consider this reply unsatisfactory."

4 STATE PARKS ATTRACT NEARLY MILLION GUESTS

Four state parks in the Michaux Forest played host during the past summer to record numbers of picnickers and other visitors.

As maintenance crews set about the winter-long task of cleaning up the park areas and preparing them for the 1956 season, District Forester Richard L. Dolton released preliminary figures showing attendance at the four parks in his district reached nearly 1,000,000 during the past summer.

The estimates are based on daily spot counts made by park foremen and submitted to Dolton's office at Caledonia State Park.

The four parks in the Michaux Forest — Caledonia, Pine Grove Furnace, Mont Alto and Old Forge — were in such demand for outings and picnics that during much of the summer they were unable to accommodate many visitors despite the fact that each received additional facilities during the months that preceded the opening of the 1955 season.

Need More Parks
"Asked whether or not the four parks would be further expanded during the coming winter, Mr. Dolton said the answer to the problem seems to be not larger but more parks."

"Additional facilities seem to attract additional people. We never seem able to get ahead of the demand," he commented.

Caledonia and Pine Grove Furnace attracted the majority of picnickers and vacationers to the Michaux Forest during the park season which ended with the Labor Day weekend. Mr. Dolton estimated that each of these two parks was host to 300,000 visitors during the past summer.

During the month of July Caledonia park entertained an estimated 135,000 visitors.

Set New Record
The 1955 park attendance, Forester Dolton noted, was the highest on record despite the fact that the month of June was unusually cool and park attendance during this period was far below average.

The heaviest demands were made on the parks over three holiday weekend periods — Memorial Day, July 4th and Labor Day.

Caledonia park during the past summer was especially popular among out-of-state visitors, Park Foreman Austin Munick commented. Weekend periods especially, he noted, brought "tremendous numbers" of visitors from Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

As park maintenance personnel began cleanup operations, Forester Dolton said they found evidence that 1955 visitors were not as careful or neat as visitors of previous years. Tons of debris are being gathered up and carried from the park areas and countless pieces of broken equipment are being repaired.

"People seem to lose sight of the fact that these are their own park areas," the district forest official said in commenting on the careless use of park areas.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

On Tuesday night, the residence of Messrs. J. J. Baldwin, N. Codori and H. Rupp, in York Street, were entered and robbed of a variety of articles. It would be well for householders to be on their guard and have their premises carefully secured against such intruders.

Rev. David A. Wilson and family, who left this place for Liberia in April, arrived at Monrovia on the 21st of June. Mr. Wilson is principal of the Alexander High School at Monrovia.

Married. On Thursday, the 13th inst., by the Rev. P. Anstaedt, Mr. Samuel Ott, of Carroll County, Md., to Miss Matilda Beams, of Adams County.

Commencement Week. The public exercises connected with the closing of the summer sessions of the seminary and college are highly interesting. We have never had so many strangers in our midst on such an occasion. The interest in the institution increases yearly, and the opportunities afforded by a reunion of alumni, to renew old associations, and to bring wives, daughters and sisters to form pleasant acquaintances, must gradually add to the interest.

On Sabbath morning, the Baccalaureate address was given by President Baugher. On Tuesday evening Rev. F. R. Anspaugh, of Hagerstown, addressed the alumni of the seminary. Several young men about to leave the institution gave addresses.

On Wednesday morning was the anniversary of the Phrenokosmian Society. In the evening Rev. William M. Paxton, of Pittsburgh, will address the alumni.

Died. At McConeillsburg, on the 9th inst., Col. James Agnew, in the 87th year of his age. He was born in Adams County July 31st, 1769, and removed to McConeillsburg in 1791, where he has resided ever since. He leaves an estate probably the largest one in Franklin County.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Fairfield Items: Fairfield is a beautiful little village, situated eight miles from Gettysburg, and in what is called "Carroll's Tract." It has over 400 of a population, has four very comfortable churches, four general stores, two confectionaries, three smith shops, two wagon maker shops, two cabinet makers and undertakers, and one first class hotel. There are, however, very often on election days some other places where the stuff, which is said to make Democrats, is dealt out freely, and by parties of whom we might expect better things. Fairfield is noted for its healthy climate and the good soil surrounding it. It has improved more, according to its population, in the last ten years, than any other village in the country. It can also boast of having two candidates for the legislature, and I don't know any better place for those who appear to have been annoyed by mosquitoes and phosphate agents, to seek shelter, than in the beautiful little village of Fairfield.

The new bridge across Tom's Creek has been completed and makes quite a fine appearance.

Local Items: The County Commissioners invite sealed proposals for a new covered bridge over the Conowingo on the State Road near Heidelberg.

An artesian well is being put down between Ben Mar and the High Rock. The depth reached at last accounts was about 200 feet. The work is being done by the W. M. R. R. Company.

William Walter and Samuel Walter, Hamilton Township, advises us that they have a stalk of corn 15 feet high, with two ears, the highest ear being 10 feet 3 inches from the ground. The hill had three stalks, all being good ears. They expect to realize from 4,000 to 5,000 bushels from two fields containing 45 acres.

Today's Talk

THE OTHER FELLOW'S VIEW
It is fortunate that none of us think exactly alike. If we did where would the fun of conversation and discussion land us? Certainly in a dry and dull state of mood and mind! It's only by habitual stirring up of the mind that it keeps plastic and alive.

Your view and the other fellow's may be miles apart, or just inches, but each of us learns and broadens his view by calm and dispassionate discussion with others. One of us may be wrong, or both of us, but we gain by fresh viewpoints and honest differences. The well-informed person is always the most interesting conversationalist. But inasmuch as we can learn something from everyone, it behooves us to be good listeners and good thinkers — and respect the viewpoint of the other fellow. Arguing for argument's sake is foolish and a waste of good time!

Each one of us is entitled to his own view. We can think as we please, and say what we will so long as we do not interfere with the rights of others. Individual freedom of thought and freedom of expression, as well as that of the press, is guaranteed to all in the free world. Those who are unhappy over such a heritage should seek other territory.

I like to read a good book and then discuss it with someone else who has read the same book. In that way the book becomes humanized. Like one man talking to two friends. I am of the opinion that many an author would like nothing better than to sit in, silently and unknown, as two or more discuss his book.

We have political parties because of different views held by all, and discussion among them all is a good thing. Where there is wide interest there are bound to be produced the best ideas and most intelligent thinking among everyone. We are stimulated by opposing ideas. They often change us to better paths than we have travelled.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Cheerful Front."

ABSENT SECRETARY
If some one should wonder why still unanswered letters lie, there's a simple explanation: Secretary's on vacation.

Can't find envelopes although there's a lot somewhere I know. Postage stamps, I'm sure I've many. But I've searched and can't find any. Here I sit and try to think, Who would woman hide the ink? Vainly, just as Mother Hubbard, I have gone through drawer and cupboard.

Since to do the tasks I tried, I have put them all aside. There will be of work a stack here. When the secretary's back here.

EXPECT BATTLE OVER SEATING OF RED CHINA

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — U.N. delegates gathering for the 10th General Assembly are optimistic about the 12-week session opening tomorrow. But they are losing no time in getting down to discussions of strategy on controversial problems.

The diplomats learned only this morning of U.S. Secretary of State Dulles' appeal to Turkey and Greece to patch up their quarrel over Cyprus. They declined to predict whether it would help keep that controversy — originally between Britain and Greece — off the Assembly agenda.

But the delegates were bracing for a quick test on Red China's claim to a U.N. seat, and a bitter fight between Soviet-supported Poland and the American-backed Philippines for a Security Council seat. A Polish victory would mark the first time a Soviet bloc candidate has been elected in six years.

Red Road "Better" Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov flew in yesterday, saying the road from Moscow to New York appeared "better and smoother." He expressed a "sincere wish that Soviet-United States relations may develop favorably to the good of our two nations and of universal peace."

U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said in a television interview that he was always an optimist and hoped that the Russians would adopt President Eisenhower's "open sky plan" to avert surprise attack by exchanging aerial reconnaissance and defense blueprints of each other's country.

But he also said he did not put too much stock in Russian smiles and cordial attitudes.

Can Defeat China

He said the United States had enough support in the U.N. to side-track again Red China's plea for a U.N. seat and would oppose any move for relaxation now of a U.N. embargo on strategic materials for Red China, two propositions Molotov is expected to press.

Francis O. Wilcox, assistant secretary of state who deals with U.N. affairs, told a U.N. boosters' organization, the American Assn. for the United Nations, that the United States sincerely trusts that the Soviet Union will join the international atomic agency to be set up by U.S.-bilateral pact.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, in another television interview, said he did not expect a break in the jam on membership applications, held up mainly by Russia vetoes. He added that disarmament plans which did not include Red China and the rest of the world outside the U.N. would not have any sense.

COLLEGE GIRLS NEED SWEATERS

The Associated Press
First on the list of every back-to-school shopper is a supply of sweaters. No college girl ever had too many of these casual, versatile garments, it seems. And the same is true of the grade school and high school set.

This year the variety of sweater styles and yarns is almost endless. But the classic cardigan remains a top favorite, and probably the biggest selling item in this category is the orlon sweater. This is because it has the look and feel of expensive cashmere, yet is budget priced and can be washed as easily as a pair of stockings.

One of the top campus styles of the year is the dyed-to-match sweater and tweed skirt. The sweater half of the combination is available in cashmere, orlon or wool, in slip-on, cardigan or twin sweater sets.

Also important in the 1955 sweater lineup is the bulky ribbed-knit sweater in coat or pullover style, often with wide, loose turtle neck, Italian fashion. These come in dark or vivid hues as well as white, and are particularly beloved for wear with Bermuda shorts.

For dress-up wear, there are many versions of cashmere or orlon sweaters with wide boat necklines, short or long sleeves, with or without jewel, sequin or embroidery trim. Teamed with a dance skirt, these festive little tops will see a girl through many tea dances and after 5 dates.

Probably the most welcome news of sweaters these days is their easy washability. Many of the wool sweaters have been treated to prevent shrinkage, and all the orlon or orlon-and-wool blends may be washed without worry, dried in a short time.

LEGISLATORS CONFER AGAIN ON TAX ISSUE

HARRISBURG — Democratic and Republican legislative leaders were called into another compromise tax session with Gov. Leader today—this time to hear a report by the Pennsylvania Economy League on the state's actual budget needs.

But it will be up to the conferees themselves to decide whether to accept the league's figures.

And Sen. Kessler (R-Lancaster) chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said the Republicans won't be bound by any figures presented at the session.

Leader, who has proposed a $1,800,000,000 budget for the 1955-57 fiscal period, suggested at the last compromise meeting, just one week ago, that the non-partisan government research group step in and present its figures.

The league, however, was not expected to offer a compromise tax program to go with its budget ideas.

Need $400 Million

The session with the Economy League was called amid a prediction that the need for new taxes will be resolved near the 400 million dollar mark.

That compares with Leader's original request for 503 millions later scaled down to near 450 millions and a Republican counterproposal of 321 millions later upped to about 350 millions.

And Secretary of Internal Affairs Genevieve Blatt, said the administration may be forced to accept a sales tax to balance the budget.

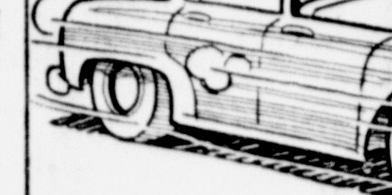

Speaking in Pittsburgh over the weekend, Miss Blatt said, however, that any new sales levy would have to be 3 per cent without exemptions. The state's one per cent sales tax expired last Aug. 31.

Meanwhile, Kessler expressed opposition to a tentative Democratic proposal for a tax on federal income tax returns.

Speaker Andrews (D-Cambria) broached the idea last week as one that could solve the state's tax problems if adopted by the Legislature.

vessels were awaiting the support of the heavier guns of the ocean fleet.

Both sides have claimed the loyalty of the fleet. Most of the larger ships were on maneuver in the Atlantic when the revolt started Friday.

The government for the second time announced last night that it held Cordoba, provincial capital of 350,000 persons in north central Argentina. It admitted, however, that the "insurrectionist command still maintains some centers of resistance."

Deride Peron Claims

Pro-Peron forces first claimed they were in control of Cordoba Saturday. The government radio, explaining why fighting there had not ended as previously announced, said later loyalist forces took their time because they "did not want to aggravate the suffering of the civilian population." Rebel broadcasts derided the government claims.

Government broadcasts asserted the "activities of the mutineers are more by radio and propaganda than real," and declared the "congress in control of the situation."

Assert Outside Help

The state radio said, "There is no doubt that the seditious movement was patiently prepared with great foreign help adverse to the constituted authorities."

"This is clearly evidenced by the fact that their information service is organized only from the exterior," the broadcast said.

It charged information favorable to the rebels was "spread abroad" immediately, while attempts were made to "distort the official resolutions or communications."

Telephone communication with Buenos Aires was disrupted yesterday afternoon and correspondents in Buenos Aires were permitted to send out only government communications and other official information.

The government said an uprising in Tucuman was put down by loyalist forces but gave no indication of the size of opposition strength. Tucuman is some 700 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Rebel forces in the vicinity of Bahia Blanca, a big port near Puerto Belgrano, cut the gas pipeline to Buenos Aires from oilfields in southern Argentina. The government termed the move a "cowardly act" and appealed to housewives to use gas only for essential tasks. Gas is widely used for industrial as well as household purposes in coal-short Argentina.

MERGED UNIONS MUST DECIDE ON SHORTER NAME

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — Finding a name that's easy to say, and easy to fit into headlines, will be only one of the minor problems of the AFL and CIO after they merge in one big union next December.

Although they will be working together in the new organization, the leaders of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations didn't want to give up their individual identities.

So, apparently without losing much sleep over it, they agreed on a compromise. They will start out under this name: the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

That's a big mouthful to carry around very long. The labor bosses probably will agree later on something shorter for the outfit which puts under one tent 10 million AFL members and five million unionists of the CIO.

Some Hard Feelings

The first major problem of the two groups when they sit down together will be to get along together. In spite of the present air of harmony, hard feelings run deep among the heads of the some unions which will be in the new AFL-CIO.

For one thing, there's the problem of trying to keep them from raiding one another's unions for members.

For the sake of labor unity, Walter Reuther, president of the CIO, agreed that George Meany, president of the AFL, should be president of the new giant of American labor.

The ruling body, with plenty of power written into the proposed constitution, will be the Executive Council, made up of the president, Meany, a secretary-treasurer, and 27 vice presidents from member unions.

CIO In Minority

Starting out, at least, the CIO will be in a minority. There will be only 10 CIO people on the 29-man council. This council has a big stick: it can investigate and suspend member unions for what it considers misconduct.

Since this council will meet only three times a year, perhaps the real power will turn out to be in the hands of an executive committee which will meet every two months and can get a lot of work done faster than the 29-man council.

The CIO will be outnumbered on the committee too. Three CIO men will sit on the eight-man committee.

But, by agreement, the CIO will name the director of organization. And organizing workers not yet in unions is one of the major tasks the new group has set for itself.

In addition Meany has given warning that the AFL-CIO will plunge into politics "to change the political picture that is developing against labor."

Says Democratic Registration Is High

HARRISBURG — A top Democratic leader says Democratic registrations for the Nov. 8 election are well ahead of rival Republican registrations.

"Our party was never stronger and that goes for last year when we elected the first Democratic governor in 29 years," said Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman.

Barr said yesterday that in Pittsburgh registrations ran 8-1 in favor of the Democrats while the ratio was 2-1 in Philadelphia and traditionally Republican Dauphin County.

The registration books closed Saturday for the Nov. 8 election. Barr predicted that Pennsylvania may be so strongly Democratic next year that both President Eisenhower and Sen. Duff (R-Pa.) may decline to run for reelection.

villages, highways and lowlands were flooded.

Vacationers and beach residents by the hundreds huddled in quickly opened shelters in schools, churches and community buildings. Hurricane warnings flew from Wilmington to Atlantic City, N.J., and over the south half of Chesapeake Bay. The hurricane alert was in effect all the way to Provincetown, Mass., on the tip of Cape Cod.

The fear of floods equaled that of wind and tides through the East and Northeast, where rampaging rivers took more than 200 lives and caused untold damage after August's Hurricane Diane dumped torrents of rain on Pennsylvania, New York and New England.

Forty-three had died a week earlier when Connie crashed ashore over the Carolinas and moved northward to Pennsylvania and New York, where water also caused the greatest loss.

North Carolina's greatest loss in those two hurricanes — estimated upwards of 40 million dollars — came from flooded croplands.

Pennsylvania's various state agencies and civil defense organization were alerted by Gov. George M. Leader as the Weather Bureau there warned of possible new floods.

North Carolina's Gov. Luther H. Hodges, who hopped a jet plane home from the Chicago Governor's Conference as Connie approached, flew back from a Virginia meeting yesterday and drove immediately to Morehead City for a first-hand view of Ione's destruction and the area's needs.

With Hodges went Thomas H. Goodman of Thomasville, Ga., Southeastern regional director of civilian defense.

Alert Disaster Workers

Well inland from the sparsely settled Pamlico and Albemarle high water caused trouble early. The flooding Neuse and Trent rivers, at New Bern, closed U.S. Highway 17, main New York to Miami route, and U.S. 70, main route to the Cherry Point Marine Air Base.

Disaster workers moved swiftly into position as storm-conscious residents of the East Coast watched Ione approach land.

All possible preparations were made calmly and with an experience gained not only in Connie and Diane, but in Hazel last October, which smashed ashore in the Carolinas and whirled all the way to Canada, killing 177 persons.

R. C. Army Helps

Beaches were evacuated generally on a voluntary basis. The Red Cross and various local authorities quickly opened shelters and arranged for bedding and food. The Army sent in supplies and other assistance.

Civilian defense organizations, the Civil Air Patrol and ham radio operators got ready to maintain communications and provide emergency power.

Military planes flew inland to safety well ahead of the storm while big ships put to sea to ride it out and smaller vessels moved to safe ports or hurricane anchorages.

At Norfolk, the Navy moved nearly 100 ships to its hurricane anchorage in Chesapeake Bay. The battleship Iowa and Carrier Ticonderoga were among those putting to sea.

Yankees Pounding Down Home Stretch With Two Game Margin Over Tribe

By ORLO ROBERTSON
The Associated Press

The New York Yankees have the Cleveland Indians on the floor and like the Bronx Bombers of old they are moving in for the kill. For years the Yankees have had a reputation for taking a mile once they were given an inch. And that's the way Casey Stengel's 1955 edition has been performing the past week.

A week ago the Yanks trailed the Indians by 1½ games and apparently had all the worst of the schedule.

Today they are roaring along two games in front. The schedule favors them with the Tribe in the most disastrous tailspin of the year. They have seven to play to only five for Cleveland. Both teams are on the road until the campaign ends Sunday.

Win Fifth Straight
Yesterday the Yankees thumped the Red Sox 3-2 for their fifth straight victory. The Indians bowed to the Detroit Tigers 10-3, their fourth straight loss.

The Chicago White Sox all but slid out of the picture, losing 8-1 to sixth-place Kansas City. The Sox need four victories in their remaining five games to tie for the flag even if the Yanks win only one.

Bob Grim was the big man in the Yanks' triumph. He replaced fireballer Bob Turley in the third with the score tied 2-2, two runners on base and no body out. He promptly shut the door in the faces of the Red Sox and pitched hitless ball the remainder of the way. Only two got on base, Billy Klaus via Billy Martin's error and Ted Williams, who walked.

Take Early Lead
The Yanks gave Turley a two-run lead off Willard Nixon in the first but Jackie Jensen tied it up with a two-run homer in the third before Grim came in from the bullpen.

The winning run, scored off Nixon, came in the fifth. Two singles and a walk loaded the bases. As Ted Lepcio tossed out Gil McDougald, Gerry Coleman raced home.

The defeat of the Indians was ironic in that it came at the hands of 20-year-old Bob Miller, beaten by the Yanks last week. At that time there was considerable comment because Detroit Manager Bucky Harris used an untested youngster in a game involving the pennant.

Bob Miller hurled six-hit ball at the Indians before he fired after seven innings and was relieved by Dick Marlowe. Pinch hitter Hank Foiles' two-run homer was the only damaging blow off Miller. By that time the Tigers were out in front, chiefly because of a six-run sixth inning at the expense of Mike Garcia and Ray Narleski.

Gus Zernial's bases-loaded homer off Chicago's Dick Donovan spiked the White Sox early in the game and they never were able to do anything with the offerings of Art Ditmar.

The Baltimore Orioles pulled out of the cellar into a seventh-place tie with the Senators as they beat Washington 9-0 behind Jim Wilson. The Milwaukee Braves clinched second place in the National League with an 11-inning 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. But the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Phillies remained in a battle for third place. The Giants dropped a 7-5 decision to the Dodgers while the Phillies split with the Pittsburgh Pirates, losing the first 5-2 and winning the nightcap 2-1. That left the Giants a game in front of the Phils.

The Cincinnati Redlegs downed the Chicago Cubs 12-5.

ATLANTA DRIVER WINS AUTO RACE

LANGHORNE, Pa. (AP)—Tim Flock of Atlanta led from the 90th mile yesterday to win the 250-mile National Circuit Championship late model stock car race, establishing a record speed average of 77.88 miles an hour.

Flock drove his 1955 Chrysler over Langhorne Speedway in an official time of 3:12.35, a one-mile dirt track record for the distance. Herb Thomas of Sanford, N.C., winner of the Southern 500 mile stock car race finished second one lap behind Flock. Thomas set the old record of 3:30:42.88 last year.

One accident marred the event. Axel Anderson's car blew a tire and flipped upside down on the fourth turn, sending him to Lower Bucks County Hospital with face cuts and suffering from shock. Anderson is from Patchogue, Long Island.

CALVIN JONES IS ANCHOR MAN FOR IOWA LINE

By IRA KAPENSTEIN
IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Iowa's hard charging guard Calvin Jones, who played all of the 1954 season with a broken wrist says his injury is healing and that he's "all set for September."

The captain of the Hawkeyes broke the wrist before the start of last season. Despite the repeated "lay off for a while," the Steubenville, Ohio, athlete insisted that tape and wrist splints be used so he could continue to play.

The husky 233-pounder is agile for his weight and is equally efficient on offense and defense. He is a top blocker in the line and down the field. His aggressive defensive charges have made him a constant menace.

Starred As Soph

Even as a sophomore in 1953 Cal ranked among the best linemen in the Big Ten. That year his tremendous speed and football know-how offset his lack of experience and helped make him one of the leaders of the Hawkeyes.

The 1953 Iowa squad ranked seventh in major collegiate competition in rushing defense, giving up an average of only 226.8 yards per game on the ground.

Jones' football career started as a freshman for Steubenville High School. He was an end but was soon shifted to guard.

Along with two other Hawkeye stars—end Frank Gilliam and half back Eddie Vincent called Steubenville to nine victories in a 10-game schedule.

In discussing the upcoming season Jones has this to say: "I hope it will be our best season. I know it will be a good one."

He also said that teammate Eddie Vincent will be an Iowa sparkplug again this year. "He's anxious to start, too," exclaimed Cal.

Amateur Golf Champ

Harvie Ward, of San Francisco and North Carolina, 29-year-old veteran of international golf competition, won National Amateur golf championship on the ninth attempt at Richmond, Va., Saturday. He defeated Bill Hyndman, a weekend golfer from Philadelphia, 9 and 8 in one of the worst slaughters in tournament history.

HARVIE WARD WINS AMATEUR GOLF TOURNEY

By ROBERT MOORE

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Handsomeness of Harvie Ward lingered in the clubhouse shadows for one last glimpse of the James River course where he gained his "greatest victory in golf."

Dusk had replaced the hot afternoon sunshine. The last of the gallery was thinning rapidly. Just an hour earlier, Ward had mauled William Hyndman III of Philadelphia 9 and 8 for the U.S. amateur championship.

Ward, who now has won every major amateur title, was mumbling something about one of the old masters of golf, Byron Nelson.

"Byron helped me improve my game so much," said Ward, who had failed in eight previous attempts to prove himself king of American amateurs. "Byron showed me the importance of holding onto the club with the left hand when playing iron shots."

Is Improved Golfer

The San Francisco automobile salesman said there has been no basic change in his game since he won the British Amateur crown in 1952 but that he's a vastly improved golfer now.

"Until Nelson showed me how to hold on to the club," Ward explained, "I was loose with my irons."

Ward, 29, figured his first nine holes in the 36-hole finals were "the best nine-hole round I've played in real competition."

Ward was out in 4-under-par 31 in his showdown with Hyndman over the 6,713-yard par-70 James River layout. Hyndman was out in 36 at the morning turn. Ward had him 8 down by lunchtime. In the afternoon, Ward shot 10 straight pars to close it out.

Ward said again "I'll never turn pro."

Bullet Squad Impressive Routing Temple 21-0 In Scrimmage Here Saturday

Sophomore Frank Capitani, ex-Hershey High star, stole the spotlight as the Gettysburg College football squad put on an impressive exhibition in outclassing Temple University 21-0 here Saturday afternoon in a scrimmage played under full-game regulations.

With the exception of six players who are nursing minor injuries, the entire Bullet squad saw action against the Owls. Frank Gagliardi, quarterback; Al Kempton, tackle; Stan Musser, halfback; Joe Robinski, guard; Church Heverly, quarterback, and Bob Barkley, tackle, missed the drill.

Jim Soltesz, senior, quarterbacked the Bullets very impressively while Dave Hetrick, a sophomore, also handled the squad well. Capitani, a fullback, scored twice against Temple. In the second period Capitani took a pass from Soltesz in the flat and sped 29 yards for a score. Soltesz converted. The burly youngster sliced off right tackle and streaked 60 yards for his second TD in the final quarter.

Bob Lebo, former Boiling Springs star, intercepted a Temple pass and streaked 75 yards midway in the third period for the other Bullet score.

Gettysburg's forward wall turned in a particularly fine all-around exhibition, allowing the Owls but 10 yards during the first half and giving up only 108 during the entire afternoon. The Bullets picked up 173 yards while on the attack.

The Bullets wait until October 1 for their opener with Bucknell at Hershey. Temple, who will oppose the Bullets next year in a regular season affair, meets Holy Cross on Saturday.

MARCIANO AND ARCHIE MOORE EAGER FOR BOUT

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Ione, a gal with a real big punch, had heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore more worried about her than each other as they idled away the hours.

Trained to a razor-sharp edge, the fighters' long preparations for tomorrow's title bout in Yankee Stadium ended yesterday with short boxing sessions. Now they had nothing to do but peer at the skies and wonder if Ione was going to throw a wet blanket over their plans.

If it should force a postponement, the fight will be held Wednesday. Thursday is the next postponement date.

The 38-year-old light heavyweight champion considers himself a clinch to become the oldest heavyweight king in history and doesn't want to wait an hour more than necessary for the crowning.

Rocky is burning. Marciano is just as anxious to get at his cocky challenger. Rocky admits that Archie's taunts have sunk deep and while he won't make any prediction his followers say that he is burning to destroy Moore in the early rounds.

Judging by his last three workouts, the 31-year-old heavyweight ruler may do just that. Never a "gym fighter," Rocky has been spectacular with both the power, speed and precision of his punching.

While training drills seldom are a reliable criterion, this observer, after watching them practice over the past week, picks Marciano to win on a knockout within five rounds.

The odds still favor Marciano by 3-1 to stretch his all-winning streak to 49. Moore has won his last 21 over the past three years and nine months.

WINS 20-LAP RACE

READING, Pa. (AP)—Tommy Hinnershitz of Reading led all the way yesterday to win the 20-lap feature of the AAA racing card at the Reading Fairgrounds.

Danny Elders, of Chicago, was second by 100 yards and trailing them were Jiggs Peters, Plainfield, N.J.; Joe Spillito, East Natick, Mass.; and Charles Musselman, Collegeville, Pa., in that order.

The winning time was 8:55.21.

Maryland Versus UCLA Will Be Tough Grid Test Saturday

By ED CORRIGAN

The Associated Press

UCLA and Maryland clash in College Park, Md., Saturday in the college football campaign's first battle of the top teams.

Each has one game under its belt.

UCLA, rated the No. 1 team in the Associated Press preseason poll, defeated Texas A&M 21-0 last week, thanks mostly to the efforts of Ronnie (Fort) Knox, who tossed three touchdown passes.

Maryland, ranked fifth, had a rough time eking out a 13-12 victory over Missouri in its opener Saturday. The Terps were unimpressive fighters, off the Taters after notching both their touchdowns in the first half.

Pitt, apparently moving into the national spotlight again under new Coach Johnny Michelosen, polished off California 27-7 although it was a struggle for three periods. Pitt plays Syracuse Saturday in the TV Game of the Week.

Tomorrow night's Rocky Marciano-Archie Moore heavyweight championship fight holds the ring spotlight this week. There will be no television but the fight will be broadcast by radio (ABC 9:30 p. m., EST).

Viewers will, however, get their regular three-a-week fare. Tonight Jimmy Slade, who holds victories over Don Cockell and Hurricane Jackson, meets Archie McBride of Trenton, N. J., in a heavyweight 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena (9 p. m., EST, Du Mont-TV).

On Wednesday (ABC-TV, 9 p. m., EST), middleweight contender Bobby Dykes of Miami, Fla., seeks his eighth straight win of the year at the expense of George Johnston, Trenton, N. J., in a 10-rounder at Miami Beach, Fla.

Ralph (Tiger) Jones, Yonkers, N. Y., faces Denmark's Chris Christensen in a middleweight 10-rounder at Cleveland Friday night (NBC-TV, and radio, 9 p. m., EST).

Pottstown Man Wins Potomac Cup Regatta

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dick Rees of Pottstown, Pa., won the class BU outboard event and came in fourth in the AU race in outboard competition at the 24th running of the President's Cup Regatta over the weekend on the Potomac River.

Another Pennsylvania entry, Roger S. Hoffman of York, was third in the AU event, and another York entry, George Julius, was third in the BU outboard contest.

George Stillwell, Glenora, Pa., won a heat of the A-stock hydroplane race and came in second in the final event.

Harry Reitzel of Wormleysburg, Pa., rode the Rag Mop to victory in the 48-cubic-inch hydroplane competition and another Pennsylvania entry, Russ Hawk, of Enola, came in third.

SINKS 30-FOOT PUTT FOR $4,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ted Kroll, who says he's lost four playoffs in the past three years, won a big one yesterday when he sank a 30-foot putt on the first extra hole of a sudden death match with PGA champion Doug Ford to take $4,000 first money in the Daily News Open golf tournament.

Kroll was four strokes behind Ford, the leader, as yesterday's final round started but shot a one-under par 67 while Ford scrambled for a 71 that left them knotted at 273 each for the 79 holes.

Kroll, from Bethesda, Md., and Ford, who plays out of Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., took a 10 minute break and then teed off for the short sudden death match. Kroll's drive was 230 yards and Ford's was 215 yards. Their second shots left Kroll 10 feet closer and after Ford's 40 foot putt was three feet short of the cup, Kroll ended the match. Ford won $2,000.

Deadlocked for third were Marty Furgol, Lenoir, Ill., and little-known Doug Higgins, of Midland, Tex., the early leader, with 274 each. Furgol finished with a 64 and Higgins with a 69. Each took home $1,450.

Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn., Bud Holscher, Apple Valley, Calif., and Paul O'Leary, Bismarck, N. D., each had 275 and won $1,000 each in the $20,000 tournament.

The New York boxing commission has a ruling that forbids fighters to wear a mustache in the ring.

DAVENPORT IS KEY PERFORMER IN UCLA STYLE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Head Coach Henry R. (Red) Sanders figures to have another high-ranked football team at UCLA this fall, and one of his key players is an outstanding candidate for All-America honors—fullback Bob Davenport.

The 22-year-old, 196-pound lad from Long Beach, Calif., now rated the best fullback in UCLA history, was great as a sophomore, was voted on the second All-America team by The Associated Press last year as a junior, and now as a senior may even be better than ever.

Until Bob came along, UCLA people generally rated Jerry Shipkey, who went on to star for the Pittsburgh Steelers, and Jack (Moose) Myers, who became great with the Philadelphia Eagles and the Los Angeles Rams, as the best in the school's annals.

Sanders, never profuse with individual praise, recently noted: "You must have a real good spinning, running fullback in your backfield if you expect to make a success of the single wing attack."

And on another occasion, he said: "Bob Davenport is the finest all-round fullback I've ever seen."

That spells trouble for UCLA's upcoming foes and for Bob's playing rivals.

Davenport, who is married and lives off campus, is a pleasant, smiling fellow off the playing field and is active in student church work. He is strictly business and very determined in grid combat.

He all but rained a fine Maryland line in one of the hardest hitting games seen here in many a year when the teams clashed last season. He will be a marked man when the Bruins invade the Maryland field this fall.

Maryland's coach, Jim Tatum, lauded Davenport's 1954 performance, especially his feat of carrying the ball 23 times with never a fumble—a rare thing on line backs from the single wing.

For the record, Davenport carried the ball 218 times the last two seasons and gained a net 917 yards, averaging 4.02 per carry. He scored 108 points on 18 touchdowns.

His teammates call him "Pogo," and the opponents can guess why. He seems propelled, like a pogo stick, going over the line of scrimmage.

Hunterstown Takes Playoff Title Of South Penn Loop By Topping Wensville 8-5

A six-run third inning which overcame a three-run deficit enabled Hunterstown to defeat Wensville 8-5 Sunday afternoon to cop the playoff championship of the South Penn Baseball League.

One of the largest crowds in recent years attended the game which was staged on the neutral New Oxford diamond.

Hunterstown reached the finals by eliminating Taneytown while Wensville, who won the regular season title, disposed of Bonneauville. Sunday's game was the third in the three-game series.

Heyser Is Winner
Bill Heyser, ace right-hander for Hunterstown, hurled the first five innings and received credit for the victory. He was forced to retire early in order to report back to his army post in Virginia. During his mound stretch Heyser fanned seven batters. Jim Hankey came on to relieve Heyser and turned in an excellent relief chore.

Dick Pitzer started on the mound for Wensville and gave way to Koontz in the seventh.

Manager George King's new champs pounded out 10 hits, including two each by Engleber, Signor and R. Miller.

Cliff Brough, Wensville manager, and D. Kime also rapped a pair of safeties for the losers.

Several times Hunterstown choked off potential Wensville rallies with good defensive work. The new champs also sparkled in running the base paths.

Win Fifth Straight

Yesterday the Yankees thumped the Red Sox 3-2 for their fifth straight victory. The Indians bowed to the Detroit Tigers 10-3, their fourth straight loss.

The Chicago White Sox all but slid out of the picture, losing 8-1 to sixth-place Kansas City. The Sox need four victories in their remaining five games to tie for the flag even if the Yanks win only one.

Bob Grim was the big man in the Yanks' triumph. He replaced fireballer Bob Turley in the third with the score tied 2-2, two runners on base and nobody out. He promptly shut the door in the faces of the Red Sox and pitched hitless ball the remainder of the way. Only two got on base, Billy Klaus via Billy Martin's error and Ted Williams, who walked.

Take Early Lead

The Yanks gave Turley a two-run lead off Willard Nixon in the first but Jackie Jensen tied it up with a two-run homer in the third before Grim came in from the bullpen.

The winning run, scored off Nixon, came in the fifth. Two singles and a walk loaded the bases. As Ted Lepcio tossed out Gil McDougald, Gerry Coleman raced home.

The defeat of the Indians was ironic in that it came at the hands of 20-year-old Bob Miller, beaten by the Yanks last week. At that time there was considerable comment because Detroit Manager Bucky Harris used an untested youngster in a game involving the pennant.

Bob Miller hurled six-hit ball at the Indians before he tired after seven innings and was relieved by Dick Marlowe. Pinch hitter Hank Poiles' two-run homer was the only damaging blow off Miller. By that time the Tigers were out in front, chiefly because of a six-run sixth inning at the expense of Mike Garcia and Ray Narleski.

Gus Zernial's bases-loaded homer off Chicago's Dick Donovan spiked the White Sox early in the game and they never were able to do anything with the offerings of Art Ditmar.

The Baltimore Orioles pulled out of the cellar into a seventh-place tie with the Senators as they beat Washington 9-0 behind Jim Wilson. The Milwaukee Braves clinched second place in the National League with an 11-inning 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. But the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Phillies remained in a battle for third place. The Giants dropped a 7-5 decision to the Dodgers while the Phillies split with the Pittsburgh Pirates, losing the first 5-2 and winning the nightcap 2-1. That left the Giants a game in front of the Phils.

The Cincinnati Redlegs downed the Chicago Cubs 12-5.

ATLANTA DRIVER WINS AUTO RACE

LANGHORNE, Pa. (P)—Tim Flock of Atlanta led from the 80th mile yesterday to win the 250-mile National Circuit Championship late model stock car race, establishing a record speed average of 77.88 miles an hour.

Flock drove his 1955 Chrysler over Langhorne Speedway in an official time of 3:12.35, a one-mile dirt track record for the distance. Herb Thomas of Sanford, N.C., winner of the Southern 500 mile stock car race finished second one lap behind Flock. Thomas set the old record of 3:30.42.89 last year.

One accident marred the event. Axel Anderson's car blew a tire and flipped upside down on the fourth turn, sending him to Lower Bucks County Hospital with face cuts and suffering from shock. Anderson is from Patchogue, Long Island.

Amateur Golf Champ

Harvie Ward, of San Francisco and North Carolina, 29-year-old veteran of international golf competition, won National Amateur golf championship on the ninth attempt at Richmond, Va., Saturday. He defeated Bill Hyndman, a weekend golfer from Philadelphia, 9 and 8 in one of the worst slughters in tournament history.

HARVIE WARD WINS AMATEUR GOLF TOURNEY

By ROBERT MOORE
RICHMOND, Va. (P)—Handsome Harvie Ward lingered in the clubhouse shadows for one last glimpse of the James River course where he gained his "greatest victory in golf."

Dusk had replaced the hot afternoon sunshine. The last of the gallery was thinning rapidly. Just an hour earlier, Ward had mauled William Hyndman III of Philadelphia 9 and 8 for the U.S. amateur championship.

Ward, who now has won every major amateur title, was mumbling something about one of the old masters of golf, Byron Nelson. "Byron helped me improve my game so much," said Ward, who had failed in eight previous attempts to prove himself king of American amateurs. "Byron showed me the importance of holding onto the club with the left hand when playing iron shots."

Is Improved Golfer
The San Francisco automobile salesman said there has been no basic change in his game since he won the British Amateur crown in 1952 but that he's a vastly improved golfer now.

"Until Nelson showed me how to hold on to the club," Ward explained, "I was loose with my irons."

Ward, 29, figured his first nine holes in the 36-hole finals were "the best nine-hole round I've played in real competition."

Ward was out in 4-under-par 31 in his showdown with Hyndman over the 6,713-yard par-70 James River layout. Hyndman was out in 36 at the morning turn. Ward had him 8 down by lunchtime. In the afternoon, Ward shot 10 straight pars to close it out.

Ward said again "I'll never turn pro."

Bullet Squad Impressive Routing Temple 21-0 In Scrimmage Here Saturday

Sophomore Frank Capitani, ex-Hershey High star, stole the spotlight as the Gettysburg College football squad put on an impressive exhibition in outclassing Temple University 21-0 here Saturday afternoon in a scrimmage played under full-game regulations.

With the exception of six players who are nursing minor injuries, the entire Bullet squad saw action against the Owls. Frank Gagliardi, quarterback; Al Kempton, tackle; Stan Musser, halfback; Joe Robinski, guard; Church Heverly, quarterback; and Bob Barkley, tackle, missed the drill.

Jim Soltesz, senior, quarterbacked the Bullets very impressively while Dave Hetrick, a sophomore, also handled the squad well.

Capitani, a fullback, scored twice against Temple. In the second period Capitani took a pass from Soltesz in the flat and sped 29 yards for a score. Soltesz converted. The burly youngster sliced off right tackle and streaked 60 yards for his second TD in the final quarter.

Bob Lebo, former Bolling Springs star, intercepted a Temple pass and streaked 75 yards midway in the third period for the other Bullet score.

Gettysburg's forward wall turned in a particularly fine all-around exhibition, allowing the Owls but 10 yards during the first half and giving up only 106 during the entire afternoon. The Bullets picked up 173 yards while on the attack.

The Bullets wait until October 1 for their opener with Bucknell at Hershey. Temple, who will oppose the Bullets next year in a regular season affair, meets Holy Cross on Saturday.

MARCIANO AND ARCHIE MOORE EAGER FOR BOUT

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (P)—Lone, a gal with a real big punch, had heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore more worried about her than each other as they idled away the hours.

Trained to a razor-sharp edge, the fighters' long preparations for tomorrow's title bout in Yankee Stadium ended yesterday with short boxing sessions. Now they had nothing to do but peer at the skies and wonder if Ione was going to throw a wet blanket over their plans.

If it should force a postponement, the fight will be held Wednesday. Thursday is the next postponement date.

The 38-year-old light heavyweight champion considers himself a cinch to become the oldest heavyweight king in history and doesn't want to wait an hour more than necessary for the crowning.

Rocky is burning
Marciano is just as anxious to get at his cocky challenger. Rocky admits that Archie's taunts have sunk deep and while he won't make any prediction his followers say that he is burning to destroy Moore in the early rounds.

Judging by his last three workouts, the 31-year-old heavyweight ruler may do just that. Never a "gym fighter," Rocky has been spectacular with both the power, speed and precision of his punching.

While training drills seldom are a reliable criterion, this observer, after watching them practice over the past week, picks Marciano to win on a knockout within five rounds.

The odds still favor Marciano by 3-1 to stretch his all-winning streak to 49. Moore has won his last 21 over the past three years and nine months.

UCLA and Maryland clash in College Park, Md., Saturday in the college football campaign's first battle of the top teams.

Each has one game under its belt.

UCLA, rated the No. 1 team in the Associated Press preseason poll, defeated Texas A&M 21-0 last week, thanks mostly to the efforts of Ronnie (Fort) Knox, who tossed three touchdown passes.

Maryland, ranked fifth, had a rough time eking out a 13-12 victory over Missouri in its opener Saturday. The Terps were unimpressive fighting off the Tigers after notching both their touchdowns in the first half.

Pitt, apparently moving into the national spotlight again under new Coach Johnny Michelosen, polished off California 27-7 although it was a struggle for three periods. Pitt plays Syracuse Saturday in the TV Game of the Week.

Pottstown Man Wins Potomac Cup Regatta

WASHINGTON (P)—Dick Rees of Pottstown, Pa., won the class BU outboard event and came in fourth in the AU race in outboard competition at the 24th running of the President's Cup Regatta over the weekend on the Potomac River.

Another Pennsylvania entry, Roger S. Hoffman of York, was third in the AU event, and another York entry, George Julius, was third in the BU outboard contest.

George Stillwell, Glenora, Pa., won a heat of the A-stock hydroplane race and came in second in the final event.

Harry Reitzel of Wormleysburg, Pa., rode the Rag Mop to victory in the 48-cubic-inch hydroplane competition and another Pennsylvania entry, Russ Hawk, of Enola, came in third.

SINKS 30-FOOT PUTT FOR $4,000

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Ted Kroll, who says he's lost four playoffs in the past three years, won a big one yesterday when he sank a 30-foot putt on the first extra hole of a sudden death match with PGA champion Doug Ford to take $4,000 first money in the Daily News Open golf tournament.

Kroll was four strokes behind Ford, the leader, as yesterday's final round started but shot a one-under par 67 while Ford scrambled for a 71 that left them knotted at 273 each for the 72 holes.

Kroll, from Bethesda, Md., and Ford, who plays out of Klimesha Lake, N. Y., took a 10 minute break and then teed off for the short sudden death match. Kroll's drive was 230 yards and Ford's was 215 yards. Their second shots left Kroll 10 feet closer and after Ford's 40 foot putt was three feet short of the cup, Kroll ended the match. Ford won $2,200.

Deadlocked for third were Marty Furgol, Lenoir, Ill., and little-known Doug Higgins, of Midland, Tex., the early leader, with 274 each. Furgol finished with a 64 and Higgins with a 69. Each took home $1,450.

Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn., Bud Holscher, Apple Valley, Calif., and Paul O'Leary, Blomington, N. D., each had 275 and won $1,000 each in the $20,000 tournament.

The New York boxing commission has a ruling that forbids fighters to wear a mustache in the ring.

The winning time was 8:55.21.

DAVENPORT IS KEY PERFORMER IN UCLA STYLE

LOS ANGELES (P)—Head Coach Henry R. (Red) Sanders figures to have another high-ranked football team at UCLA this fall, and one of his key players is an outstanding candidate for All-America honors — fullback Bob Davenport.

The 22-year-old, 196-pound lad from Long Beach, Calif., now rated the best fullback in UCLA history, was great as a sophomore, was voted on the second All-America team by The Associated Press last year as a junior, and now as a senior may even be better than ever.

Until Bob came along, UCLA people generally rated Jerry Shipkey, who went on to star for the Pittsburgh Steelers, and Jack (Moose) Myers, who became great with the Philadelphia Eagles and the Los Angeles Rams, as the best in the school's annals.

Sanders, never profuse with individual praise, recently noted: "You must have a real good spinning, running fullback in your backfield if you expect to make a success of the single wing attack."

And on another occasion, he said: "Bob Davenport is the finest all-round fullback I've ever seen."

That spells trouble for UCLA's upcoming foes and for Bob's playing rivals.

Davenport, who is married and lives off campus, is a pleasant, smiling fellow off the playing field and is active in student church work. He is strictly business and very determined in grid combat.

He all but ruined a fine Maryland line in one of the hardest hitting games seen here in many a year when the teams clashed last season. He will be a marked man when the Bruins invade the Maryland field this fall.

Maryland's coach, Jim Tatum, lauded Davenport's 1954 performance, especially his feat of carrying the ball 23 times with never a fumble — a rare thing on line bucks from the single wing.

For the record, Davenport carried the ball 218 times the last two seasons and gained a net 917 yards, averaging 4.02 per carry. He scored 108 points on 18 touchdowns.

His teammates call him "Pogo," and the opponents can guess why. He seems propelled, like a pogo stick, going over the line of scrimmage.

Hunterstown Takes Playoff Title Of South Penn Loop By Topping Wensville 8-5

4 GRID POWERS IN SCHOLASTIC CIRCLES LOSE

HARRISBURG (P)—Only three of seven major high schools that completed the 1954 season without a loss or tie have spotless records after two weeks of competition on the scholastic football front.

Danville and Schuylkill Haven were the latest victims—both were stopped at 15 wins and both by one touchdown.

Schuylkill Haven suffered a heartbreaker at the hands of a strong Minersville team over the weekend. A final period score by Minersville enabled them to come from behind and whip the Hurricanes 13-7.

For Danville, which showed good form in whipping Selingsgrove 27-6 in their first outing, it was a 6-0 loss at the hands of Shamokin.

Scoring Speed Ends

Not only was it Danville's first loss in 16 games—they were beaten last by Lewistown in 1953—but it was the first time the Ironmen were held scoreless in 54 outings.

Three other undefeated teams from last year, however, Coneaugh Twp., Old Forge and Mahanoy Twp., held true to form in winning handily over the weekend.

Coneaugh Twp., Western Conference defending champ, took its second of the season and its 14th in a row by stomping to a stunning 52-7 victory over Boswell.

Meanwhile, Old Forge opened its season against Duryea and whipped the newcomers to the Eastern Conference 20-0.

14th Straight
For Mahanoy Twp., it was their 14th in a row with a 26-6 verdict over Shenandoah.

The state's other major undefeated team from last year, Lower Merion, opens its season this coming weekend against Downingtown.

Meanwhile, Mount Carmel, Eastern Conference defending champion, trounced Tamaqua 34-0 for its second shutout in two games this season. The squad beat Sayre 18-0 in a non-league opener.

The wins by Mount Carmel, Minersville and Shamokin established them as definite favorites in the Eastern Conference southern division.

In other developments, a free-for-all clash for top honors in the huge WPIAL AA shaped up as seven schools were eliminated from title contention over the weekend.

The number of hopefuls was reduced to 26 as Beaver Falls, Connelville, Donora, Monessen, Monongahela, Vandergrift and Ellwood City all went down to defeat or tied.

A loss or tie in the double circuit automatically eliminates a team from contention.

Three teams, defending champion Clairton, Greensburg and Charleroi, were eliminated earlier.

Skipping around the state: Williamsport, Central Penn defending champ, took its second in a row this season in another non-league game by whipping Sunbury 40-0.

South Penn Triumphs
Carlisle and Mechanicsburg, South Penn co-champions last year, both capped non-league victories. Carlisle 40-14 over Chief Logan and Mechanicsburg 19-6 over Calvin Coolidge of Washington, D. C.

Meadvale, Sect. II defending champ, lost a non-league encounter to Erie East 7-6.

WINS INTERNATIONAL 100

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa.—Joe Sykes, Tonawanda, N. Y., won the first "International 100" yesterday on the Williams Grove half-mile speedway.

The race was halted in the 95th lap when a car driven by Homer Newland, Edgewood, Md., rolled over and blocked the track. Newland was treated for minor injuries.

Second to Sykes, whose winning time was 53 minutes, 22.2 seconds, was Charles Hansen, Toronto, Can. Third was Bill Dodd, Baltimore.

HOLLYWOOD — Ralph Dupas, 137½, New Orleans, outpointed Mickey Northrup, 140, Los Angeles, 10.

A six-run third inning which overcame a three-run deficit enabled Hunterstown to defeat Wensville 8-5 Sunday afternoon to cop the playoff championship of the South Penn Baseball League.

One of the largest crowds in recent years attended the game which was staged on the neutral New Oxford diamond.

Hunterstown reached the finals by eliminating Taneytown while Wensville, who won the regular season title, disposed of Bonneauville. Sunday's game was the third in the three-game series.

Heyser Is Winner
Bill Heyser, ace right-hander for Hunterstown, hurled the first five innings and received credit for the victory. He was forced to retire early in order to report back to his army post in Virginia. During his mound stretch Heyser fanned seven batters. Jim Hankey came on to relieve Heyser and turned in an excellent relief chore.

Dick Pitzer started on the mound for Wensville and gave way to Koonitz in the seventh.

Manager George King's new champs pounded out 10 hits, including two each by Engleber, Signor and R. Miller.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times
ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

On Tuesday night, the residence of Messrs. J. J. Baldwin, N. Codori and H. Rupp, in York Street, were entered and robbed of a variety of articles. It would be well for householders to be on their guard and have their premises carefully secured against such intruders.

Rev. David A. Wilson and family, who left this place for Liberia in April, arrived at Monrovia on the 21st of June. Mr. Wilson is principal of the Alexander High School at Monrovia.

Married. On Thursday, the 13th inst., by the Rev. P. Anstaedt, Mr. Samuel Ott, of Carroll County, Md., to Miss Matilda Beams, of Adams County.

Commencement Week. The public exercises connected with the closing of the summer sessions of the seminary and college are highly interesting. We have never had so many strangers in our midst on such an occasion. The interest in the institution increases yearly, and the opportunities afforded by a reunion of alumni, to renew old associations, and to bring wives, daughters and sisters to form pleasant acquaintances, must gradually add to the interest.

On Sabbath morning, the Baccalaureate address was given by President B. R. Anstaedt, on Tuesday evening Rev. F. R. Anspaeh, of Hagerstown, addressed the alumni of the seminary. Several young men about to leave the institution gave addresses. On Wednesday morning was the anniversary of the Phrenokomian Society. In the evening Rev. William M. Paxton, of Pittsburgh, will address the alumni.

Died. At McConehillsburg, on the 9th inst., Col. James Agnew, in the 87th year of his age. He was born in Adams County July 31st, 1769, and removed to McConehillsburg in 1791, where he has resided ever since. He leaves an estate probably the largest one in Franklin County.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Fairfield Village: Fairfield is a beautiful little village, situate eight miles from Gettysburg, and in what is called "Carroll's Tract." It has over 400 of a population, has four very comfortable churches, four general stores, two confectionaries, three smith shops, two wagon maker shops, two cabinet makers and undertakers, and one first class hotel. There are however, very often on election days some other places where the stuff, which is said to make Democrats, is dealt out freely, and by parties of whom we might expect better things. Fairfield is noted for its healthy climate and the good soil surrounding it. It has improved more, according to its population, in the last ten years, than any other village in the country. It can also boast of having two candidates for the legislature, and I don't know any better place for those who appear to have been annoyed by mosquitoes and phosphate agents, to seek shelter, than in the beautiful little village of Fairfield.

The new bridge across Tom's Creek has been completed and makes quite a fine appearance.

Local Items: The County Commissioners have sealed proposals for a new covered bridge over the Conowingo in the State Road near Hagerstown.

An art well is being put down between the Mar and the High Rock. The depth reached at last accounts for about 200 feet. The work is being done by the W. M. R. R. Company.

Today's Talk

THE OTHER FELLOW'S VIEW
It is fortunate that none of us think exactly alike. If we did, there would be no fun of conversation and discussion land us? Certainly in a dry and dull state of mind and mood! It's only by habitual stirring up of the mind that it keeps plastic and alive.

Your view and the other fellow's may be miles apart, or just inches, but each of us learns and broadens his view by calm and dispassionate discussion with others. One of us may be wrong, or both of us, but we gain by fresh viewpoints and honest differences. The well-informed person is always the most interesting conversationalist. But inasmuch as we can learn something from everyone, it behooves us to be good listeners and good talkers — and respect the viewpoint of the other fellow. Arguing for argument's sake is foolish and a waste of good time!

Each one of us is entitled to his own view. We can think as we please, and say what we will so long as we do not interfere with the rights of others. Individual freedom of thought and freedom of expression, as well as that of the press, is guaranteed to all in the free world. Those who are unhappy over such a heritage should seek other territory.

I like to read a good book and then discuss it with someone else who has read the same book. In that way the book becomes humanized. Like one man talking to two friends, I am of the opinion that many an author would like nothing better than to sit in, silently and unknown, as two or more discuss his book.

We have political parties because of different views held by all, and discussion among them all is a good thing. Where there is wide interest there are bound to be produced the best ideas and most intelligent thinking among everyone. We are stimulated by opposing ideas. They often change us to better paths than we have travelled.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Cheerful Front."

ABSENT SECRETARY
If some one should wonder why still unanswered letters lie. There's a simple explanation: Secretary's on vacation.

Can't find envelopes although there's a lot somewhere I know. Postage stamps, I'm sure I've many. But I've searched and can't find any. Here I sit and try to think. Where would woman hide the ink? Vainly, just as Mother Hubbard, I have gone through drawer and cupboard.

Since to do the tasks I tried, I have put them all aside. There will be of work a stack here. When the secretary's back here.

EXPECT BATTLE OVER SEATING OF RED CHINA

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — U.N. delegates gathering for the 10th General Assembly are optimistic about the 12-week session opening tomorrow. But they are looking no time in getting down to discussions of strategy on controversial problems.

The diplomats learned only this morning of U.S. Secretary of State Dulles' appeal to Turkey and Greece to patch up their quarrel over Cyprus. They declined to predict whether it would help keep that controversy — originally between Britain and Greece — off the Assembly agenda.

But the delegates were bracing for a quick test of Red China's claim to a U.N. seat, and a bitter fight between Soviet-supported Poland and the American-backed Philippines for a Security Council seat. A Polish victory would mark the first time a Soviet bloc candidate has been elected in six years.

Red Road "Better"
Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov flew in yesterday, saying the road from Moscow to New York appeared "better and smoother." He expressed a "sincere wish" that Soviet-United States relations may develop favorably to the good of our two nations and of universal peace.

U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said in a television interview that he was always an optimist and hoped that the Russians would adopt President Eisenhower's "open sky plan" to avert surprise attack by exchanging aerial reconnaissance and defense blueprints of each other's country.

But he also said he did not put too much stock in Russian smiles and cordial attitudes.

Can Defeat China

He said the United States had enough support in the U.N. to side-track again Red China's plea for a U.N. seat and would oppose any move for relaxation now of a U.N. embargo on strategic materials for Red China, two propositions Molotov is expected to press.

Francis O. Wilcox, assistant secretary of state who deals with U.N. affairs, told a U.N. boosters' organization, the American Assn. for the United Nations, that the United States sincerely trusts that the Soviet Union will join the international atomic agency to be set up by U.S.-Soviet pact.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, in another television interview, said he did not expect a break in the jam on membership applications, held up mainly by Russia vetoes. He added that disarmament plans which did not include Red China and the rest of the world outside the U.N. would not have any sense.

COLLEGE GIRLS NEED SWEATERS

The Associated Press
First on the list of every back-to-school shopper is a supply of sweaters. No college girl ever had too many of these casual, versatile garments, it seems. And the same is true of the grade school and high school set.

This year the variety of sweater styles and yarns is almost endless. But the classic cardigan remains a top favorite, and probably the biggest selling item in this category is the orlon sweater. This is because it has the look and feel of expensive cashmere, yet is budget priced and can be washed as easily as a pair of stockings.

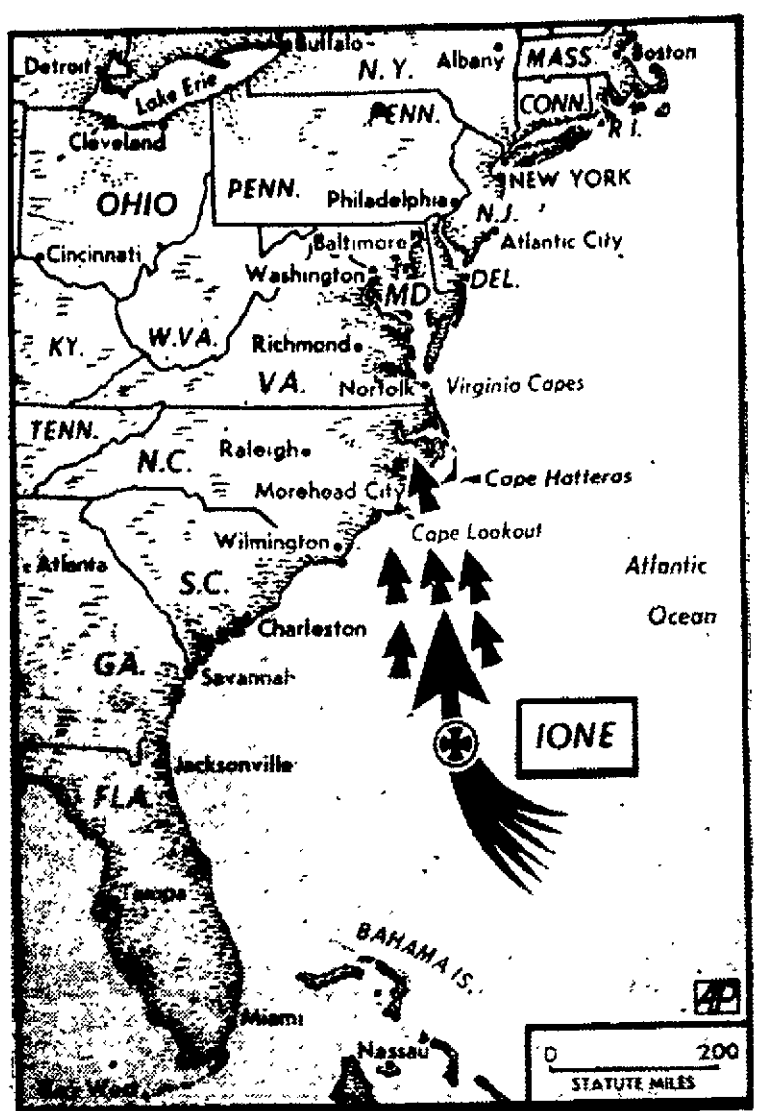

One of the top campus styles of the year is the dyed-to-match sweater and tweed skirt. The sweater half of the combination is available in cashmere, orlon or wool, in slip-on, cardigan or twin sweater sets.

Also important in the 1955 sweater lineup is the bulky ribbed-knit sweater in coat or pullover style, often with wide, loose turtle neck, Italian fashion. These come in dark or vivid hues as well as white, and are particularly beloved for wear with Bermuda shorts.

For dress-up wear, there are many versions of cashmere or orlon sweaters with wide boat necklines, short or long sleeves, with or without jewel, sequin or embroidery trim. Teamed with a dance skirt, these festive little tops will see a girl through many tea dances and after 5 dates.

Probably the most welcome news of sweaters these days is their easy washability. Many of the wool sweaters have been treated to prevent shrinkage, and all the orlon or orlon-and-wool blends may be washed without worry, dried in a short time.

Arrow indicates north-northwestward course of the storm which was expected to reach Cape Lookout-Cape Hatteras area between 7 and 9 a.m. today, and to move inland over eastern North Carolina, passing west of Norfolk, Va., and over Chesapeake Bay area later today. LEGISLATORS CONFER AGAIN ON TAX ISSUE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Democratic and Republican legislative leaders were called into another compromise tax session with Gov. Leader today—this time to hear a report by the Pennsylvania Economy League on the state's actual budget needs.

But it will be up to the conferees themselves to decide whether to accept the league's figures.

And Sen. Kessler (R-Lancaster), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said the Republicans won't be bound by any figures presented at the session.

Leader, who has proposed a $1,800,000,000 budget for the 1955-57 fiscal period, suggested at the last compromise meeting, just one week ago, that the non-partisan government research group step in and present its figures.

The league, however, was not expected to offer a compromise tax program to go with its budget ideas.

Need $400 Million
The session with the Economy League was called amid a prediction that the need for new taxes will be resolved near the 400 million dollar mark.

That compares with Leader's original request for 503 millions later scaled down to near 450 millions and a Republican counterproposal of 321 millions later upped to about 350 millions.

And Secretary of Internal Affairs Genevieve Blatt, said the administration will be forced to accept a sales tax to balance the budget.

Speaking in Pittsburgh over the weekend, Miss Blatt said, however, that any new sales levy would have to be 3 per cent without exemptions.

The state's one per cent sales tax expired last Aug. 31. Meanwhile, Kessler expressed opposition to a tentative Democratic proposal for a tax on federal income tax returns.

Speaker Andrews (D-Cambria) broached the idea last week as one that could solve the state's tax problems if adopted by the Legislature.

DISPLAY WARNINGS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau at 9:05 a.m. EST ordered hurricane warnings displayed from Wilmington, N. C., to Block Island, and on the inland waters of Long Island Sound, the Delaware and Chesapeake bays.

Rebels Deny

vessels were awaiting the support of the heavier guns of the ocean fleet.

Both sides have claimed the loyalty of the fleet. Most of the larger ships were on maneuver in the Atlantic when the revolt started Friday.

The government for the second time announced last night that it held Cordoba, provincial capital of 350,000 persons in north central Argentina. It admitted, however, that the "insurrectionist" command still maintains some centers of resistance.

Deride Peron Claims

Pro-Peron forces first claimed they were in control of Cordoba Saturday. The government radio, explaining why fighting there had not ended as previously announced, said later loyalist forces took their time because they "did not want to aggravate the suffering of the civilian population." Rebel broadcasts derided the government claims.

Government broadcasts asserted that "activities of the mutineers are more by radio and propaganda than real," and declared the "con- strongly in control of the situation."

Assert Outside Help

The state radio said, "There is no doubt that the seditious movement was patiently prepared with great foreign help adverse to the constituted authorities."

"This is clearly evidenced by the fact that their information service is organized only from the exterior," the broadcast said.

It charged information favorable to the rebels was "spread abroad" immediately, while attempts were made to "distort the official resolutions or communications."

Telephone communication with Argentina was disrupted yesterday afternoon and correspondents in Buenos Aires were permitted to send out only government communications and other official information.

The government said an uprising in Tucuman was put down by loyalist forces but gave no indication of the size of opposition strength. Tucuman is some 700 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Rebel forces in the vicinity of Bahia Blanca, a big port near Puerto Belgrano, cut the gas pipeline to Buenos Aires from oilfields in southern Argentina. The government termed the move a "cowardly act" and appealed to housewives to use gas only for essential tasks. Gas is widely used for industrial as well as household purposes in coal-short Argentina.

MERGED UNIONS MUST DECIDE ON SHORTER NAME

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Finding a name that's easy to say, and easy to fit into headlines, will be only one of the minor problems of the AFL and CIO after they merge in one big union next December.

Although they will be working together in the new organization, the leaders of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations didn't want to give up their individual identities.

So, apparently without losing much sleep over it, they agreed on a compromise. They will start out under this name: the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

That's a big mouthful to carry around very long. The labor bosses probably will agree later on something shorter for the outfit which puts under one tent 10 million AFL members and five million unionists of the CIO.

Some Hard Feelings

The first major problem of the two groups when they sit down together will be to get along together. In spite of the present air of harmony, hard feelings run deep among the heads of the some unions which will be in the new AFL-CIO.

For one thing, there's the problem of trying to keep them from raiding one another's unions for members.

For the sake of labor unity, Walter Reuther, president of the CIO, agreed that George Meany, president of the AFL, should be president of the new giant of American labor.

The ruling body, with plenty of power written into the proposed constitution, will be the Executive Council, made up of the president, Meany, a secretary-treasurer, and 27 vice presidents from member unions.

CIO In Minority

Starting out, at least, the CIO will be in a minority. There will be only 10 CIO people on the 29-man council. This council has a big stick: it can investigate and suspend member unions for what it considers misconduct.

Since this council will meet only three times a year, perhaps the real power will turn out to be in the hands of an executive committee which will meet every two months and can get a lot of work done faster than the 20-man council.

The CIO will be outnumbered on the committee too. Three CIO men will sit on the eight-man committee.

But, by agreement, the CIO will name the director of organization. And organizing workers not yet in unions is one of the major tasks the new group has set for itself.

In addition Meany has given warning that the AFL-CIO will plunge into politics "to change the political picture that is developing against Labor."

Says Democratic Registration Is High

HARRISBURG (AP)—A top Democratic leader says Democratic registrations for the Nov. 8 election are well ahead of rival Republican registrations.

"Our party was never stronger and that goes for last year when we elected the first Democratic governor in 20 years," said Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman.

Barr said yesterday that in Pittsburgh registrations ran 8-1 in favor of the Democrats while the ratio was 2-1 in Philadelphia and traditionally Republican Dauphin County.

The registration books closed Saturday for the Nov. 8 election. Barr predicted that Pennsylvania may be so strongly Democratic next year that both President Eisenhower and Sen. Duff (R-Pa) may decline to run for reelection.

villages, highways and lowlands were flooded.
Vacationers and beach residents by the hundreds huddled in quickly opened shelters in schools, churches and community buildings.
Hurricane warnings flew from Wilmington to Atlantic City, N.J., and over the south half of Chesapeake Bay. The hurricane alert was in effect all the way to Provincetown, Mass., on the tip of Cape Cod.

The fear of floods equaled that of wind and tides through the East and Northeast, where rampaging rivers took more than 200 lives and caused untold damage after August's Hurricane Diane dumped torrents of rain on Pennsylvania, New York and New England.

Forty-three had died a week earlier when Connie crashed ashore over the Carolinas and moved northward to Pennsylvania and New York, where water also caused the greatest loss.

Heavy Crop Loss

North Carolina's greatest loss in those two hurricanes — estimated upwards of 40 million dollars — came from flooded croplands.

Pennsylvania's various state agencies and civil defense organizations were alerted by Gov. George M. Leader as the Weather Bureau there warned of possible new floods.

North Carolina's Gov. Luther H. Hodges, who hopped a jet plane home from the Chicago Governor's Conference as Connie approached, flew back from a Virginia meeting yesterday and drove immediately to Morehead City for a first-hand view of Ione's destruction and the area's needs.

With Hodges went Thomas H. Goodman of Thomasville, Ga., Southeastern regional director of civilian defense.

Alert Disaster Workers

Well inland from the sparsely settled Pamlico and Albemarle sound areas of North Carolina, high water caused trouble early. The flooding Neuse and Trent rivers, at New Bern, closed U.S. Highway 17, main New York to Miami route, and U.S. 70, main route to the Cherry Point Marine Air Base.

Disaster workers moved swiftly into position as storm-conscious residents of the East Coast watched Ione approach land.

All possible preparations were made calmly and with an experience gained not only in Connie and Diane, but in Hazel last October, which smashed ashore in the Carolinas and whirled all the way to Canada, killing 17 persons.

R. C. Army Helps

Beaches were evacuated generally on a voluntary basis. The Red Cross and various local authorities quickly opened shelters and arranged for bedding and food. The Army sent in supplies and other assistance.

Civilian defense organizations, the Civil Air Patrol and ham radio operators got ready to maintain communications and provide emergency power.

Military planes flew inland to safety well ahead of the storm while big ships put to sea to ride it out and smaller vessels moved to safe ports or hurricane anchorages.

At Norfolk, the Navy moved nearly 100 ships to its hurricane anchorage in Chesapeake Bay. The battleship Iowa and Carrier Ticonderog were among those putting to sea.

"Wolf-Whistle" Murder Case Opens In Mississippi Today

By SAM JOHNSON

SUMNER, Miss. (P)—No plea or a death sentence is expected in the sensational "wolf whistle" trial which begins today with two white men accused of murdering a 14-year-old Chicago Negro boy.

Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham said he would not question prospective jurors on their opinions of death as a penalty for murder.

That apparently means the state will not ask for a death sentence for Roy Bryant, 24, and his 35-year-old half-brother J. W. Milam. The minimum penalty for murder is life imprisonment.

Bryant and Milam are accused of murdering Emmett Till, a husky negro lad who allegedly whistled a wolf whistle at Mrs. Bryant, owner of the grocery operator in nearby Money.

Selection of an all-white, all-male jury began today.

No Negro Votes
Only qualified voters can serve jury duty and Tallahatchie County has no registered Negro voters. Women do not serve on Mississippi juries.

A speedy, drama-packed trial is predicted by county officials and defense attorneys.

In the race-conscious, agricultural Mississippi Delta Negroes outnumber whites as much as 4 to 1.

Sumner residents seem to resent the national publicity given their town since the crime began in neighboring Leflore County. The trial is held in Sumner (pop. 550) because Till's body was pulled from the muddy Tallahatchie River a quarter of a mile inside Tallahatchie County.

Almost Missed Train
Till's uncle, sharecropper Mose Wright, told reporters yesterday that five minutes time might have prevented the slaying. Till almost missed the train in Chicago for the vacation trip to Mississippi.

"He liked to get left," Wright said. "If he'd been five minutes later, he'd have missed it."

But the hastily dressed boy caught the train just in time to be the victim and central figure in the most sensational trial in recent Mississippi history.

According to all versions, two white men roused him from bed about 2:30 a.m. on Aug. 28 because of his alleged wolf whistle at the pretty, 21-year-old Mrs. Bryant, mother of two young boys.

The men — Wright claims there were three, including one who stood in the background — put the boy in their car and drove away. His body was found in the river three days later — at least most officers believe it was his body.

Sheriff H. C. Strider doubts that it was, and defense attorneys said they will concentrate much of their fire against identification of the body.

Question Identification
Wright said again yesterday he is positive it was Till. The boy's mother Mrs. Mamie Bradley of Chicago said she is positive "beyond the shadow of a doubt."

Defense attorney Sidney Carlton said his five-man team also will attack Wright's claim that he can identify two of the three men who took the boy away.

The 64-year-old Negro sharecropper said he can positively identify one of the defendants and believes he recognizes the other.

Officers said Bryant and Milam admitted taking Till from the sharecropper's rundown home but said they released him unharmed when Mrs. Bryant said he was not the boy who whistled at her.

Mrs. Bradley stopped off in Cleveland on her way down to the trial and told 2,000 people attending a National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People fund and membership raising drive:

"I realize my son is a martyr, and I want to work and help so that his death will not have been meaningless."

SUMMON 20 IN SCHWARTZ CASE

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Twenty persons have been subpoenaed by the state to appear at today's hearing for Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz on charges they performed the unsuccessful abortion that caused the death of Food Fair Stores heiress Mrs. Doris Ostricher.

If Magistrate Elias Myers finds there is sufficient evidence to justify keeping the Schwartzes in custody, they will be held for grand jury action. Prior to today's hearing they were free in $5,000 bail each.

In addition to being charged with performing the abortion, the Schwartzes are accused also of conspiring with Mrs. Ostricher's mother Mrs. Gertrude Silver to perform the abortion, and with performing themselves at a medical examiner's hearing in which the cause of death was announced.

The state alleges that Mrs. Ostricher, a 22-year-old bride of two months, went with her mother to the Schwartz apartment in North Philadelphia on the night of Aug. 24 and that the abortion attempt took place there. Mrs. Ostricher died in the apartment that night.

Mrs. Silver is undergoing treatment in the Philadelphia Psychiatric Hospital.

REDS PRESSING FOR YANKS TO LEAVE EUROPE

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

MOSCOW (P)—The Soviet Union is wasting no time in renewing its call for American troops to quit Europe in the wake of Russia's promise to return the Porkkala naval base to Finland.

Hard on the heels of Russia's concession to her Baltic neighbor, the Communist party newspaper Pravda commented:

"There can be no doubt that the abolition by other powers of military bases on foreign territory would be an important contribution to the further relaxation of international tension and would help to create the necessary conditions for ending the arms drive."

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov was expected to take the same tack before the United Nations Assembly, opening tomorrow in New York, as well as in the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva next month.

Announce "Amnesty"
In another phase of the complicated diplomatic maneuvers under way in the Soviet capital, the government announced a sweeping amnesty reducing or canceling sentences of Soviet citizens convicted of collaborating with the Germans during World War II.

This was viewed here as a necessary prelude to the expected official announcement of amnesty for German war prisoners still held by the Soviets. Their return was promised West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during his visit.

The amnesty decree by the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet also said Soviet citizens who were exiled or deported on collaboration charges, or who fled abroad and served in "anti-Soviet organizations," could return home and be cleared of guilt if they came back repentant "to an honest life of labor and (to) become useful members of the socialist society."

Plea To Refugees
The decree provided four kinds of amnesty for those held in the Soviet Union: (1) immediate freedom for those serving 10 years or less; (2) sentences over 10 years cut in half; (3) freedom for those sentenced to exile or deportation for having served in the German army or other Nazi units; and (4) an end to investigations and trials of collaborators still being prosecuted.

Taxi Tribulations Almost Unlimited

FARMINGTON, N. M. (P)—The troubles and tribulations of a taxicab operator, E. E. Shipley recently told the town trustees, are almost unlimited.

Appearing to talk about a new franchise, Shipley told the town fathers that it's automatic when someone loses something, it was lost in the cab he took home — but they may not tell anyone for aer to free the German prisoners, there has been no such announcement to the Soviet people. Westerners here presumed the Russians could not have made public such a concession to the Germans unless they first showed mercy to the Russians who collaborated with the invaders.

several days. He told of town housewives ganging up to beat a 10 cent extra charge for hauling the week's groceries home — and said he now has a practice of charging 10 cents extra per bag of groceries. He says a customer calls to ask the fare to his home "about a mile and a half from town," winds up kicking because the fare is so high when he takes the cab seven miles from town.

But the real straw, Shipley said, was the Texan who accused him of stealing his turnip greens.

"Nationwide?....NATIONWIDE!"
I'm beginning to like the new name!"

"Sounded a little strange at first. After all, I've been a Farm Bureau Insurance policyholder for 15 years now. Got Farm Bureau coverage on the car and the house. On my life, too. And hospitalization for the whole family. Come to think of it, Farm Bureau has become a kind of family friend. And now all of a sudden they change the name to Nationwide Insurance."

"Why we have a new name"

"Nationwide? Yes, I can understand why we have to have a new name. As it says here, the Farm Bureau name was fine for the 13 states where we do business. But now apparently people in other states want to join with us. Can't say I blame them for that."

"But the trouble is, according to this article, in some other states there are already 'Farm Bureau' companies. So if we're going to take these new people in as policyholders, we've got to have a new name. Makes sense. Otherwise, people would get confused."

"Nationwide? It sounds big. Wonder if it's too big for people like us. After all, one of the main reasons we took out Farm Bureau Insurance in the first place was because it's such a nice neighborly company to do business with. Even a small policyholder like myself can have a say in company affairs. Our local policyholder committee takes care of that."

"Same agent . . . Same benefits"

"And Joe Hill who's been our agent all these years. You couldn't find a nicer fellow. I never will forget the way he settled that claim of ours last year. Paid it within 48 hours. You can't beat that for service!"

"Nationwide? Well, what happens to our policies with this new name? Are they going to raise the rates on us? Better see what Mr. Lincoln has to say about that. . . . Your present policy continues—same benefits as before—same policyholder committees—same agent you've always had. That sounds okay."

"For years we've been nationwide in claims service. Now we plan to be nationwide in membership, too. The more of us there are, the lower the cost of providing protection for us all. Can't argue with that."

"Nationwide? When you come to think about it, it does mean you're part of a really important organization."

"Nationwide? Sounds pretty good at that. Nationwide! Yes . . . I'm beginning to like our new name!"

An invitation to you

"When you really want to find the answers to people's needs—just go ask the people," says Murray Lincoln, Nationwide Insurance president. That's why we have the Policyholder Advisory Committees. Representative policyholders are chosen by our agents in more than 300 districts. These policyholders then elect representatives to a regional and then a Company-wide Advisory Committee which meets annually in Columbus. Here the policyholders "tell us" what their needs are and suggest how we might fill those needs. If you'd like to participate in one of these meetings—or if you're not already a policyholder and think this is the kind of company you'd like to deal with—just call your Nationwide Insurance representative. A warm welcome awaits you!

SUMMON 20 IN SCHWARTZ CASE

PHILADELPHIA (U)—Twenty persons have been subpoenaed by the state to appear at today's hearing for Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz on charges they performed the unsuccessful abortion that caused the death of Food Fair Stores heiress Mrs. Doris Ostricher.

If Magistrate Elias Myers finds there is sufficient evidence to justify keeping the Schwartzes in custody, they will be held for grand jury action. Prior to today's hearing they were free in $5,000 bail each.

In addition to being charged with performing the abortion, the Schwartzes are accused also of conspiring with Mrs. Ostricher's mother Mrs. Gertrude Silver to perform the abortion, and with performing themselves at a medical examiner's hearing in which the cause of death was announced.

The state alleges that Mrs. Ostricher, a 22-year-old bride of two months, went with her mother to the Schwartz apartment in North Philadelphia on the night of Aug. 24 and that the abortion attempt took place there. Mrs. Ostricher died in the apartment that night.

Mrs. Silver is undergoing treatment in the Philadelphia Psychiatric Hospital.

ABBOTTSTOWN — Harry Moul Jr. has been discharged from the Air Force after four years, most of which was in California and Korea.

Mrs. Fred Bankert recently suffered several broken ribs in a fall at her home.

John Sullivan, Newark, N. J., visited his mother, Mrs. Violet Rodgers, recently.

Mrs. Shirley Bair and family have moved to West Jefferson, N. C.

The local card club met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Anthony. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Laura Alland, Mrs. Nellie Stambaugh, Mrs. Homer Hafer, Mrs. Anna Ostrom and Mrs. Miriam Mummert.

LOTS OF LUCK—ALL BAD

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (U)—Luther Steele took his boy Lloyd, 11, fishing and they had plenty of luck—all of it bad.

On arrival yesterday at Hales Bar, 15 miles from home, they found they'd left their fishing tackle box at home. They found their boat half full of water and then while the father was trying to bail it out the boy accidentally shot himself in the foot with a .22 rifle.

Officers said Bryant and Milam admitted taking Till from the sharecropper's rundown home but said they released him unharmed when Mrs. Bryant said he was not the boy who whistled at her.

REDS PRESSING FOR YANKS TO LEAVE EUROPE

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

MOSCOW (U)—The Soviet Union

is wasting no time in renewing its call for American troops to quit Europe in the wake of Russia's promise to return the Porkkala naval base to Finland.

Hard on the heels of Russia's concession to her Baltic neighbor, the Communist party newspaper Pravda commented:

"There can be no doubt that the abolition by other powers of military bases on foreign territory would be an important contribution to the further relaxation of international tension and would help to create the necessary conditions for ending the arms drive."

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov was expected to take the same tack before the United Nations Assembly, opening tomorrow in New York, as well as in the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva next month.

Announce "Amnesty"

In another phase of the complicated diplomatic maneuvers under way in the Soviet capital, the government announced a sweeping amnesty reducing or canceling sentences of Soviet citizens convicted of collaborating with the Germans during World War II.

This was viewed here as a necessary prelude to the expected official announcement of amnesty for German war prisoners still held by the Soviets. Their return was promised West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during his visit.

The amnesty decree by the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet also said Soviet citizens who were exiled or deported on collaboration charges, or who fled abroad and served in "anti-Soviet organizations," could return home and be cleared of guilt if they came back repentant.

"To an honest life of labor and to become useful members of the socialist society."

This appeal to the exiles and refugees appeared to be part of the Communist world's big campaign to coax such citizens home from abroad.

Plea To Refugees

The decree provided four kinds of amnesty for those held in the Soviet Union: (1) immediate freedom for those serving 10 years or less, (2) sentences over 10 years cut in half, (3) freedom for those sentenced to exile or deportation for having served in the German army or other Nazi units; and (4) an end to investigations and trials of collaborators still being prosecuted.

Although the Russian leaders have admitted to Western correspondents that they promised Adenauer to free the German prisoners, there has been no such announcement to the Soviet people. Westerners here presumed the Russians could not have made public such a concession to the Germans unless they first showed mercy to the Russians who collaborated with the invaders.

DEMAND IS HIGH FOR GAVELS OF SAM RAYBURN

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker Sam Rayburn has used many gavels in his long career of desk-pounding in the House of Representatives.

He has broken a few and given many away. Gavels used by the speaker when rapping for order on bedrooms and the bathroom, the large linen closet opens on the connecting hallway; its back is to the closet in the back bedroom. There is one more closet in "The Peoria" . . . a good sized coat closet also opening on the central hall and placed just to the left of the bathroom. Since there is no closet in the entry hall, this closet could serve as he storage place for visitors' warps, etc.

In the full cement basement, have the heating plant installed under the living room; the laundry under the kitchen. This arrangement will leave more than ample space for a spacious recreation room, a hobby or workshop, a deep freeze area and lots of space for storage.

Blueprints Available Complete plans for this home are available; 1 set — $1275, 2 sets — $1935, 3 sets — $2580. Address requests "The Peoria" to Home of the Week, Inc., Dept. GE, 87 Weybosset St., Providence, R. I. Send check or money order or plans will be sent C.O.D. A complete home owner's kit and contractor's kit will be included at no extra cost.

Says Many Convicts Shouldn't Be In Pen

TONIA, Mich. (AP) — Dr. Garrett Heyns, warden of the Michigan State Reformatory, says a third of the 250,000 inmates in federal and state prisons shouldn't be there. Heyns told the National Probation and Parole Assn. that the third of current cases should have been handled by probation or other treatment at the community level.

Another third of the inmates, he said, have relatively simple problems that can be taken care of in time. He termed the remaining third "hard core cases" that require long confinement.

Heyns, former president of the American Prison Assn., said that prisons "were not meant to prevent crime, but rather to prevent recurrence of crime."

Two gavels Mr. Sam cherishes, according to Miss Alla Clary, who has been his secretary for 35 years. One, the gift of President Truman, was made from wood from the White House when it was renovated. The other was the first gavel Mr. Sam ever used. It was made by Miss Clary's twin nephews, Clary and Charles Bates, now 35, when they were junior high school students in Dallas, Tex.

Miss Clary told me: "They wanted me to give it to Mr. Rayburn who was then chairman of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee. He said he would promise to use it if he ever became speaker, and he did—on September 16, 1940."

Most of the gavels used on Capitol Hill—the standard ones—are turned out on lathes in the main machine shop of the Capitol building. They are of maple and are made a half-dozen or so at a time to replace those given away or broken.

From Key Home Among the collection of gavels given Speaker Rayburn by friends and admirers is one made from wood from the home of Francis Scott Key, one carved from ivory and wrapped in spun glass, another made from a variety of different woods.

The presiding officer of the Senate doesn't use a regular gavel. Every vice president, or president pro tem from John Adams' day, has used the same piece of ivory, shaped somewhat like an hour glass. This small block of ivory remained in perfect condition until about 10 years ago when former Sen. Sam Jackson (D-Ind.), presiding one day, rapped with such force the ancient ivory cracked. It was repaired with a sort of half-sole of silver at either end and is still in service.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals is 10th in lifetime home run standings. Al Simmons previously held the No. 10 spot with 307 homers.

The glass blocks arranged in a vertical line at the left of the front door add to the charm of the front entryway, serve the practical purpose of providing additional light for the front hallway.

Off the hallway to the left is a door opening on the kitchen. The hall also connects with the living room and a central hall, on the right, leading to the bath and bedrooms.

Measuring 15' x 9', the kitchen is equipped with modern working counters and cabinets. The sink is centered in the L arrangement of working counters along the front and right walls. It is placed directly under a casement window.

In the left front corner of the 15' x 9' kitchen, and well lighted by the large window in the front wall and another in the left wall, is the cheerful and cozy breakfast nook. Breakfast and luncheon dishes can be stored in the built-in china closet conveniently located in the corner where the front wall joins the left wall.

A doorway in the left kitchen wall leads to the 13' x 10' screened porch, which, during the warmer months, can serve as an extra bedroom. This porch can be glassed in if you prefer or could be converted into another room or a laundry area.

This porch also provides protected entrance to the 20' x 11' garage through a doorway in its right wall.

Direct access to the front yard, and also to the beautiful terrace on the back yard, can be obtained from this porch. Complete with a grille built against the back wall of the garage, the terrace can be turned into just as friendly and fascinating a spot as you want it to be.

The grille itself will provide the excuse, if any is needed, for countless get-togethers; it's equally suited for toasting marshmallows after a wiener roast or for turning out a delicious barbecued ham.

However, should you prefer to eat indoors when you have company, your 7' x 12' dining-room is an equally lovely and charming spot in which to enjoy a friendly meal.

Both measuring 13' x 12', the bedrooms are in the right wing of the house. Assured of cross ventilation and good lighting by windows on two exposures, these bedrooms also contain plenty of storage area.

The back bedroom has one large closet in the left wall and another in the front wall, the front bedroom has one closet in its back wall and another smaller one in the right front corner of the room.

Located between the entry hall and this front bedroom is the bath room. Large enough to hold a tub and a shower, this bathroom receives light and ventilation through the one window in its front wall. Placed conveniently near to the

DEMAND IS HIGH FOR GAVELS OF SAM RAYBURN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker Sam Rayburn has used many gavels in his long career of desk-pounding in the House of Representatives.

He has broken a few and given many away. Gavels used by the speaker when rapping for order on bedrooms and the bathroom, the large linen closet opens on the connecting hallway. Its back is to the closet in the back bedroom. There is one more closet in "The Peoria" — a good sized coat closet also opening on the central hall and placed just to the left of the bathroom. Since there is no closet in the entry hall, this closet could serve as a storage place for visitors' wraps, etc.

In the full cement basement, have the heating plant installed under the living room, the laundry under the kitchen. This arrangement will leave more than ample space for a spacious recreation room, a hobby or workshop, a deep freeze area and lots of space for storage.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans for this home are available, 1 set — $12.75, 2 sets — $19.35, 3 sets — $25.80. Address requests "The Peoria" to Home of the Week Inc., Dept. GE, 87 Weybosset St., Providence R. I. Send check or money order or plans will be sent C.O.D. A complete home owner's kit will be included at no extra cost.

Two gavels Mr. Sam cherishes according to Miss Alla Clary, who has been his secretary for 35 years. One, the gift of President Truman was made from wood from the White House when it was renovated. The other was the first gavel Mr. Sam ever used. It was made by Miss Clary's twin nephews, Clary and Charles Bates, now 35, when they were junior high school students in Dallas Tex.

Says Many Convicts Shouldn't Be In Pen
TONIA, Mich. (AP) — Dr. Garrett Heins, warden of the Michigan State Reformatory, says a third of the 250,000 inmates in federal and state prisons shouldn't be there. Heins told the National Probation and Parole Assn. that the third of current cases should have been handled by probation or other treatment at the community level.

Another third of the inmates he said have relatively simple problems that can be taken care of in time. He termed the remaining third "hard core cases" that require long confinement.

Heins, former president of the American Prison Assn. said that prisons were not meant to prevent crime, but rather to prevent recurrence of crime.

Important occasions are almost as much in demand as pens the President uses to sign important documents.

From Key Home
Among the collection of gavels given Speaker Rayburn by friends and admirers is one made from wood from the home of Francis Scott Key, one carved from ivory and wrapped in spun glass, another made from a variety of different woods.

The presiding officer of the Senate doesn't use a regular gavel. Every vice president or president pro tem from John Adams day has used the same piece of ivory shaped somewhat like an hour glass. This small block of ivory remained in perfect condition until about 10 years ago when former Sen. Sam Jackson (D-Ind.), presiding one day, rapped with such force the ancient ivory cracked. It was repaired with a sort of half-sole of silver at either end and is still in service.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals is 10th in lifetime home run standings. Al Simmons previously held the No. 10 spot with 307 homers.

18-Year Old Boy, Racing Another Auto, Is Hurlled 68 Feet To Death Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least six persons died in Pennsylvania highway accidents over the weekend.

An 18-year-old Pittsburgh boy was hurled 68 feet to his death early Sunday after his car turned over several times during a race with another auto.

And in Philadelphia, a hit-run driver was overtaken by another motorist and later held in the death of the pedestrian he struck shortly after midnight Sunday morning.

An auto race on McKnight Road on the outskirts of Pittsburgh ended in the death of Ronald S. Hirt, McCandless Twp. police were chasing the speeding autos when the crash occurred.

90 Miles An Hour

Police said Lloyd W. Hancock Jr., 25, signed a statement that he had been racing with Hirt. Ironically, a tire on Hancock's auto blew out after the fatal accident as he was driving at a moderate speed to the McCandless police station after the crash.

Police said he told them he was traveling at a speed of 90 miles an hour during the race. In the Philadelphia accident, Harry H. Sidebottom, 57, died in Misericordia Hospital several hours after he was struck by a car police said was driven by Frank Newell, 23.

Newell was held on charges of manslaughter, reckless driving and hit-run. Police said Newell sped away after striking Sidebottom. They said a passing motorist, James Duff, chased Newell and forced his car to the curb several blocks from the scene of the accident.

Truck, Bus Vrash
James Rider, 37, of Clearfield, died early Sunday from injuries suffered in the collision of his truck and an Edwards Motor Transit Co. bus. Two passengers in the truck were hospitalized and four bus passengers suffered minor injuries. Scene of the Saturday crash was Bell's Landing on Rt. 219 near Clearfield.

State police said the truck pulled into the highway from a rural road and the bus driver, Walter M. Spotts, 47, of South Williamsport, was unable to swerve his bus far

Driver Burned To Death After Crash

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—A car plowed into the rear of another auto on the New Jersey Turnpike here yesterday, and both vehicles caught fire.

The driver of the first car, Allen Carl Twyman, 30, of Oak Hill, W.Va., burned to death.

State police said the driver of the second car which struck the first auto, Henry R. Farnkopf, 26, of Keansburg, N.J., escaped injury. He was pulled from his flaming auto by a passing motorist.

Police said Twyman was employed by Ralph Parsons Construction Co. and had been working on the new Sinclair refinery at Marcus Hook, Pa., living at 32 Spruce St., Marcus Hook.

STEVENSON TO HAVE TROUBLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson's expected bid for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination seems likely to arouse some strong convention opposition from the South.

A summary of views of Southern governors, compiled by The Associated Press from questions directed to them and from their recent public statements, indicates no unanimity of opinion on a candidate to oppose him for the nomination.

Suggestions on this score by Dixie governors willing to express a public view ranged widely. Among those named were Governors Allan Shivers of Texas, Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado and Frank Lausche of Ohio, former Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, former President Truman and enough to avoid the crash. Mrs. Clara A. Fleming, 75, of St. Louis, was killed Saturday night when she was struck by an automobile crossing Rt. 322 near Cochran. She had been vacationing in the Crawford County community.

Headon Collision
A headon collision about midnight Friday night on a mountain road near Wilkes-Barre took the life of a Philadelphia woman and seriously injured her husband and two men.

Mrs. Mary Ganard, 52, was killed in the Rt. 115 crash. Her husband and the driver of their car, Patrick, 53, were in serious condition in Wilkes-Barre General Hospital. Russell Adams, 21, and Jerry Gazinski, both of Wilkes-Barre, were the occupants of the other car in the Plains Twp. accident.

Edwin J. Sneringer, 25, of Hanover, was killed Sunday night when the car in which he was riding left a township road near New Oxford and crashed into a tree.

State police of the Gettysburg barracks said the victim's brother, Richard, was driving the car. He was not seriously injured.

fact. I signed things all the time. They told me it was the only way to get out.

"Kode Us Pretty Hard"
"They wanted me to say I was sent there by the Americans. This I denied. I said and I wrote that it was not so and I told them I could prove it, but they never believed me."

The missionary said he was not tortured but "they rode us pretty hard to get us to admit things."

He said he was accused of collecting and sending information to his mission board, the conserva-

Senators Russell (D-Ga.) and Byrd (D-Va.).

The Southern governors generally agreed that if he runs, President Eisenhower is likely to have more Southern opposition than in 1952 when he carried Virginia, Florida, Tennessee and Texas. With one exception, Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. of South Carolina, they said there was little likelihood of a third party movement such as that of 1948.

Reunited After Five Years

"Some of this information was of military nature concerning China's civil war," he said. "As a former Office of Strategic Services man, my reports would have naturally taken on a military nature."

Have Birthday Dinner
He said he filed a report to his mission board secretary on China's internal, political and military situation which later was forwarded to Washington.

"I sent some military information before the Communists arrived," he said, "not much but a little. I sent nothing after the Communists arrived, although I took some pictures."

The missionary, his wife and daughter went to the women's home at Kowloon for a birthday dinner and cake.

Mrs. Lovegren, who spent 20 years with her husband in China, left when the Reds took over the mainland and has lived here since.

Biscuits and muffins reheat beautifully when they are tightly wrapped in aluminum foil and put into a moderate oven for about twenty minutes.

Lawrence Buol, of Stockton, Calif., and his wife, Sue, smile happily after their first meeting in over five years following his release by Chinese Reds at Hong Kong. Sue was on hand to greet him after working tirelessly for his release. Buol, who had been imprisoned five years and eight months, asked reporters who won the last five Rose Bowl games. PRESIDENT ON FISHING TRIP

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower goes off to a Rocky Mountain ranch today for at least five more days of trout fishing and another crack at a role he loves—head chef.

The President arranged for an early departure by automobile for Fraser, Colo., about 70 miles northwest on the western slope of the Continental Divide.

High in the Rockies there he will be the guest again of an old friend, Denver investment banker Aksel Nielsen. Eisenhower spent five days at the Nielsen ranch shortly after arriving in Colorado Aug. 14 for a work and play vacation.

Yesterday the President and Mrs. Eisenhower attended services at the Corona Presbyterian Church.

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, explained why the President and his wife did not register to vote this fall at Gettysburg, Pa., where their new country home is located. The registration deadline was Saturday.

Snyder said they will be eligible to vote there next year. Meanwhile they have given up their New York voting residence.
